Hits

Grove City High School was a pick hit during the 1985-86 school year. Before the school year started, the success of G.C.H.S. was assured. Throughout the year the student body proved they were the best.

Some of our athletic programs met new heights of success. Spirit week activities were the best ever. Our academic achievements were unmatched. With all these achievements, the 1985-86 school year will always be remembered.

Every band member must participate in street concerts, a yearly ritual.

The asbestos removal delayed school because the halls were cluttered with construction materials.

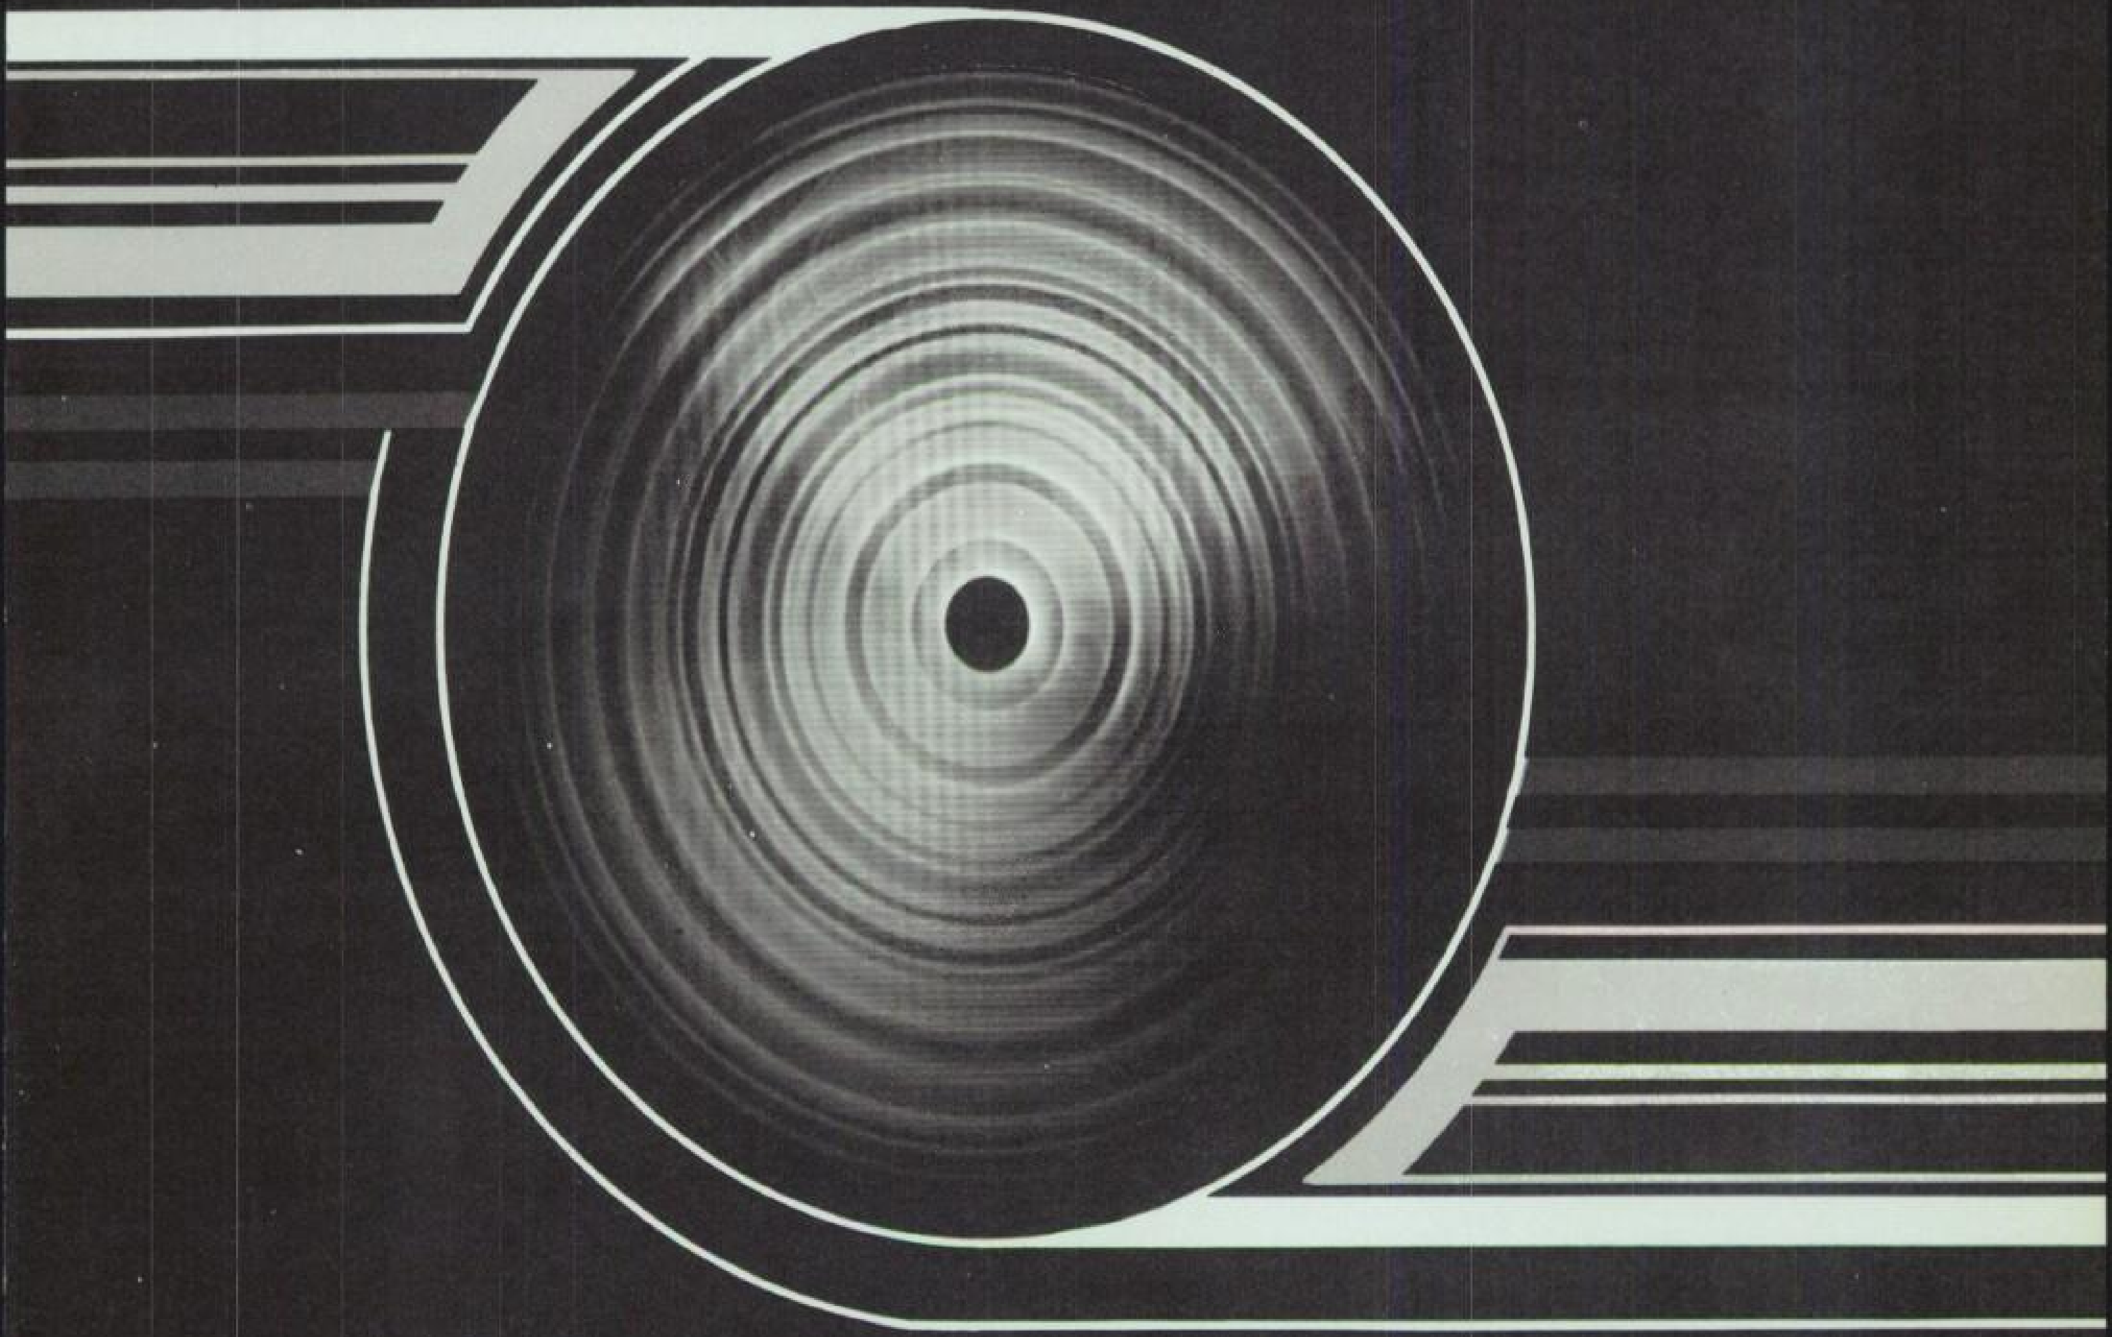
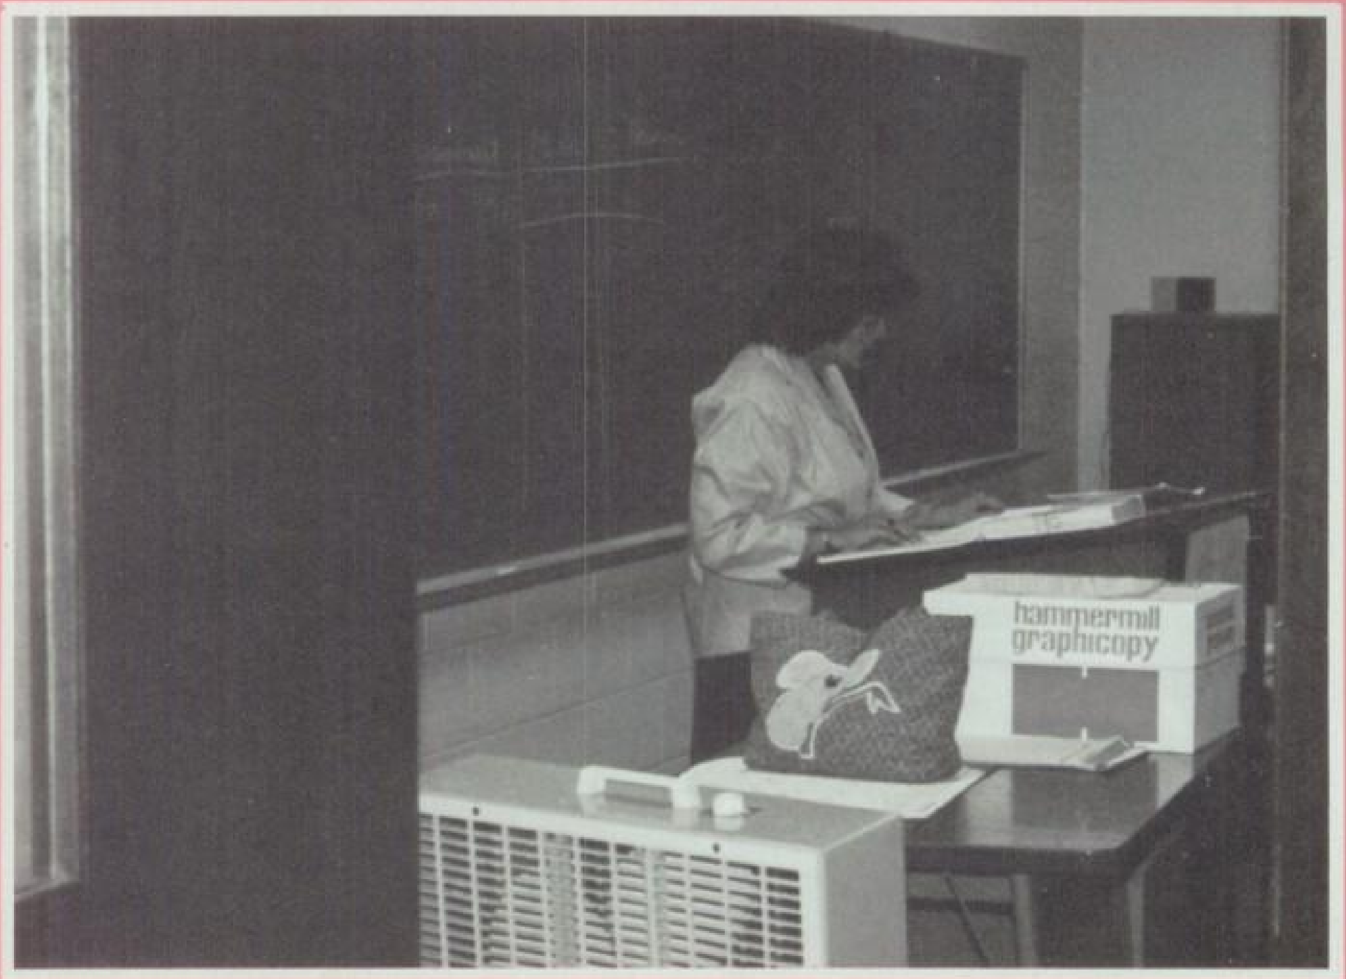
Pick Hits of Student Life



To many students, Student Life meant a Friday night game or maybe a weekend party. But many other things made up Student Life at Grove City High School. The first hit to be picked was senior Tracy Weethee as Homecoming Queen. Later in the year more hits were made with things like the fall play Exit the Body, the Christmas dance, and the Prom. The last hit to be picked was also the largest in number: the Class of 1986.

Starting Over

The first day of school was a week later than expected by the students and staff. The extended vacation was due to the removal of asbestos in our school. Students saw a great deal of change from the spring before. Such changes included: a construction area in the main ERC, new furniture, in some cases new carpet, and no air conditioner! The temperature outside reached ninety degrees, and it was hotter inside. Due to the unbearable heat, Mr. Rutan allowed the students to wear shorts for the remainder of their first week.



Mrs. Bartram uses a fan to cool her students off due to lack of an air conditioner during the first week of school.

Dressed in their new school clothes these students are ready for the first day.

This was the biggest change for students to come back to, the construction area in the main ERC.

We've Got Spirit!

The 1985 Spirit Week really brought excitement to all the classes here at Grove City High School. The creative decorations, the many different activities, and the tremendous school spirit created a great atmosphere for students and teachers to be a part of. The many activities included a pep rally, each class decorating an ERC, with the Seniors on the balcony, a contest for the class president with the best legs, and a contest for the heaviest weight of girls' purses in each class. The Seniors took first place in all the competitions. By a very wide margin the Juniors came in second.

Fall Under The Stars

As spirit week drew to an exciting end, the Homecoming celebrations began. On Saturday night, the dance was held in the commons area, with the theme being, "Fall Under The Stars."

The walls of the commons were quite appropriately decorated with dark material and shiny stars that twinkled as they reflected the lights. The couples shared slow dances in a dim, romantic setting, and the Freshman Class served refreshments on the senior balcony.

Queen Tracy, her court, and their dates take a break from the excitement to smile.

As one can see here, everyone at the Homecoming dance had a great time dancing, socializing, and celebrating.

1985 Queen and Court

The 1985-86 school year began, the weather got colder, the leaves fell, and the fall Homecoming celebrations began. To start the week, ten girls were chosen as queen potentials by the Senior Class. The whole school then voted on who they thought the queen and court members should be. During the game, the Hounds beat the Westland Cougars, and Tracy Weethee was chosen as the 1985 Homecoming Queen. The week ended with a dance.

Future Stars In Action!

Lights! Camera! Action! Soon after the school year began, auditions started for the fall play, Exit The Body.

Many students carried script books to classes, with hopes of receiving the part they wanted in the play.

After the assignment of parts, the long hours of practice began. In study halls and even in classes, students heard the reciting of lines from the play. This left the students and faculty wondering with great anticipation.

The following students, under the direction of Mrs. Sandy Price, took on the roles of characters in the play: seniors Andrea Bock, Anna Weaver, Tonya Turner, and Eileen Motok; juniors, Paul Kavicky, Jonathan Kiner, and Scott Angus, and sophomores Susan Pohle, and Richie Lippolis.

Senior Anna Weaver and sophomore Richie Lippolis are deeply involved in a conversation as they act out their parts.

Seniors Andrea Bock and Anna Weaver perform their roles with great accuracy, even down to the facial expressions, which are very important in acting.

Senior Tonya Turner listens as junior Paul Kavicky gives the situation a questioning look.

Senior Anna Weaver and sophomore Richie Lippolis are enjoying their parts.

Senior Anna Weaver and junior Jonathan Kiner portray a married couple who struggle through their daily routines, but here they seemed to have clashed.

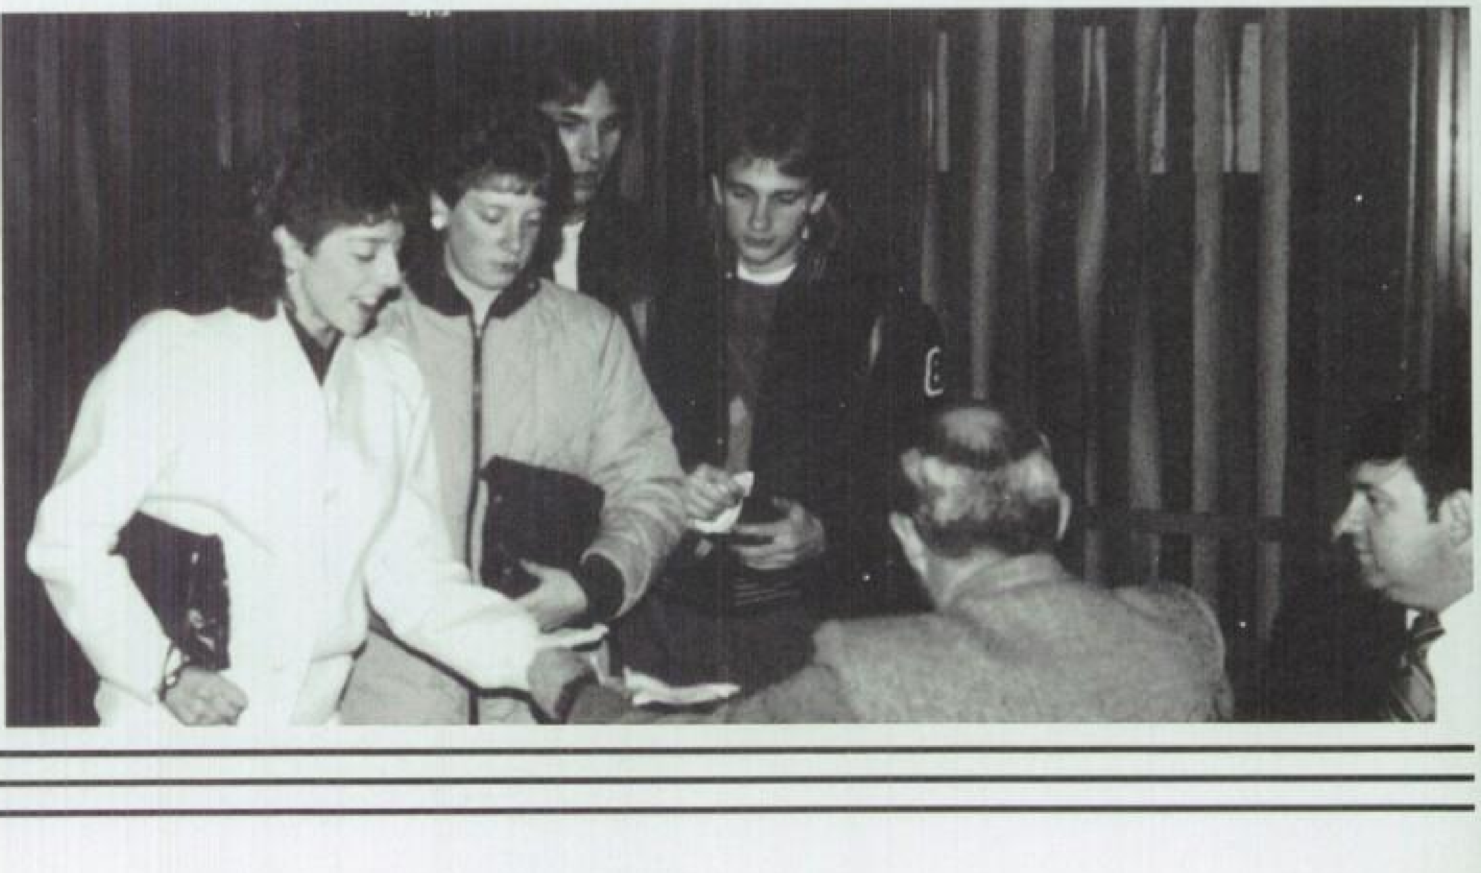
Senior Xmas Dance Full Of Memories

As many seniors dance to the music, others socialize.

Many seniors join here for a friendship chain.

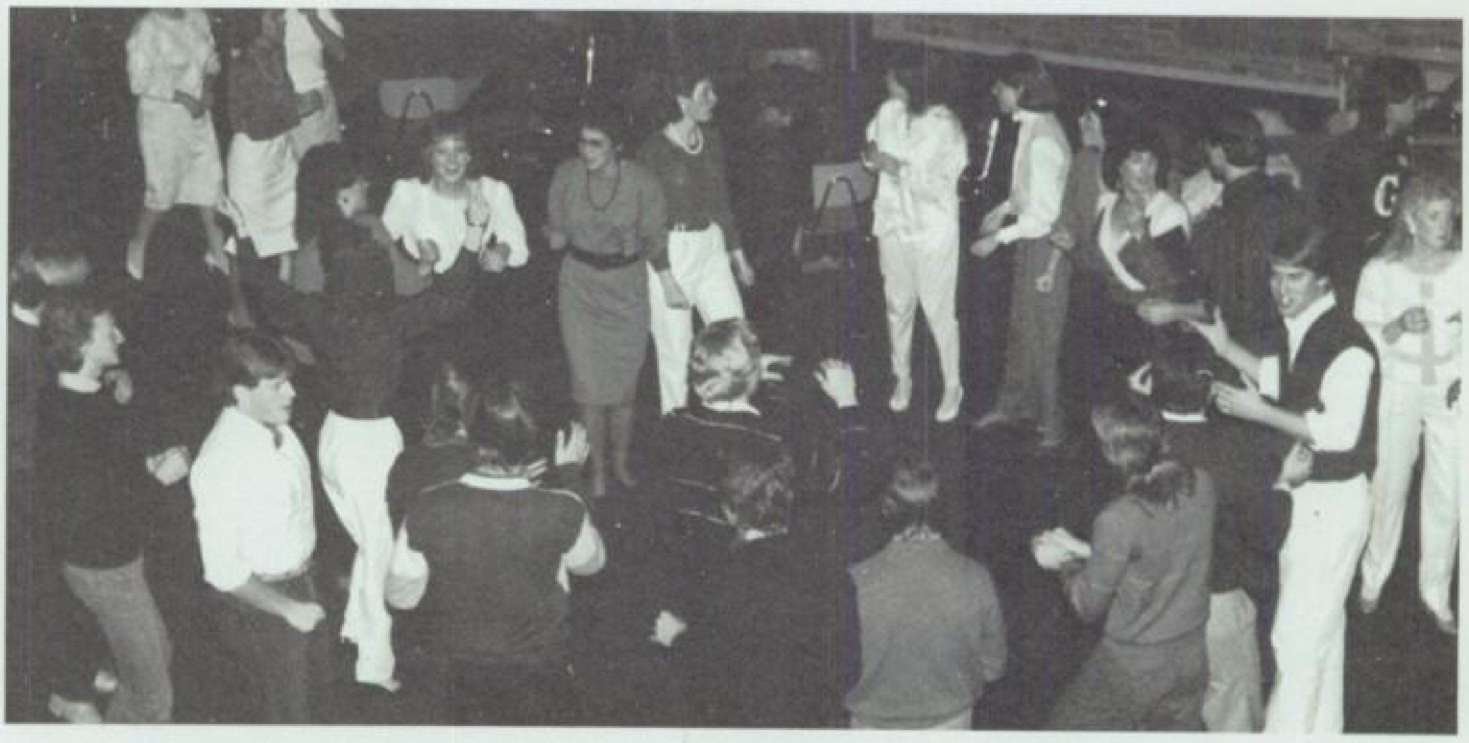
Just before the students were released for Christmas vacation, it was time for the annual Senior Christmas Dance. Being a semi-formal dance, everyone was ready for a night of fun. During the dance, the seniors chose their class song, which happened to be a hit at the time. Happiness filled the air and few, if any, of the seniors realized this would be their last Christmas celebration before the final high school days were over.



Here, all the seniors are excited.

Here, Three seniors do their thing.

All in a circle, the seniors show they know how to do it up.



These seniors are very excited.

Love In Bloom

During the week of Valentines Day, the Yearbook staff sold carnations. There were three types of carnations which the students and faculty members could buy. There were red carnations for your sweetheart, pink carnations for that special friend, and white carnations for the one which you secretely admired.

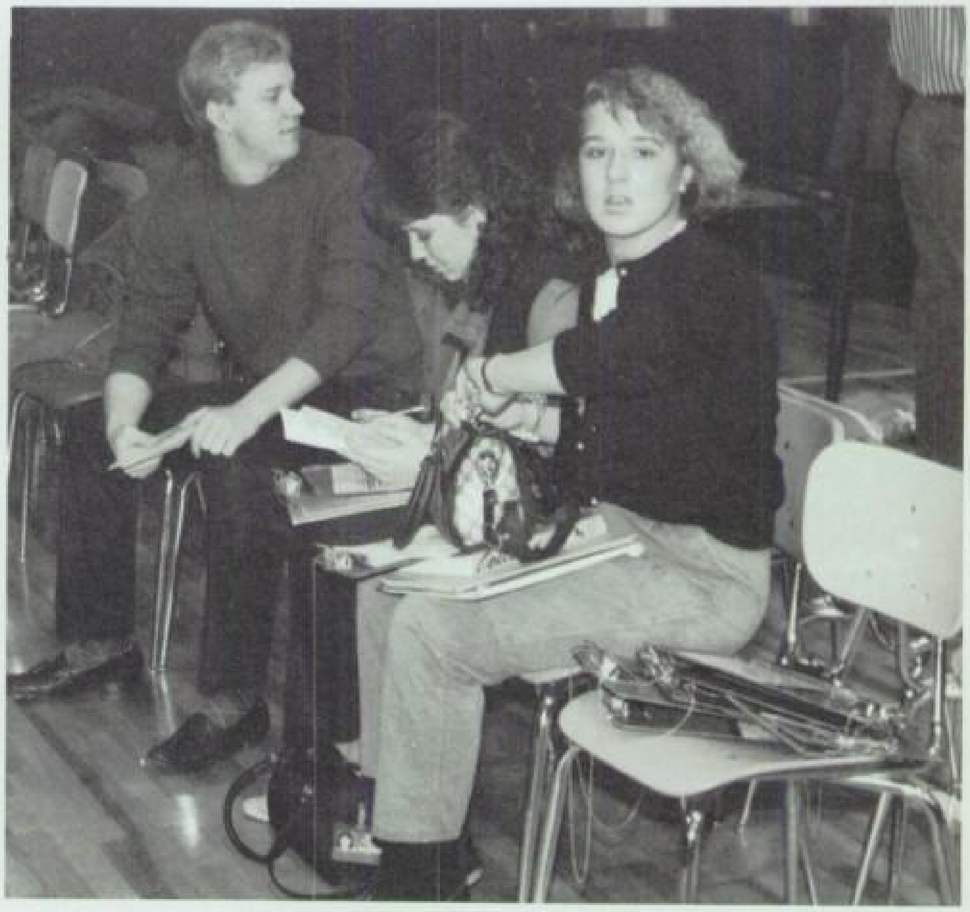
Donors had to be seventeen to donate a pint of blood. There was a good turn out of donors from students, staff, and administration.

Senior Gretchen Sheppard is in charge of the blood bags.



These seniors are ready to donate.

Grove City LIVE!

With all the student activities available at GCHS, the school certainly was a LIVE place. With dances, games, contests, field trips, and plays, how could anyone be bored?

Senior Andrea Bock and junior Paul Kavicky find acting as a method of participating in school.

Some students, like the ones above, find a little time during the school day to relax between classes.

Going to a school dance is one good way to "let off some steam." Being with a friend helps, too.

Seniors Tonya Turner and Alan Sturm seem to enjoy this activity - being chosen Prom queen and king.

One of the most time-consuming activities in school is, of course, going to class and studying.

Morp Beach Bash

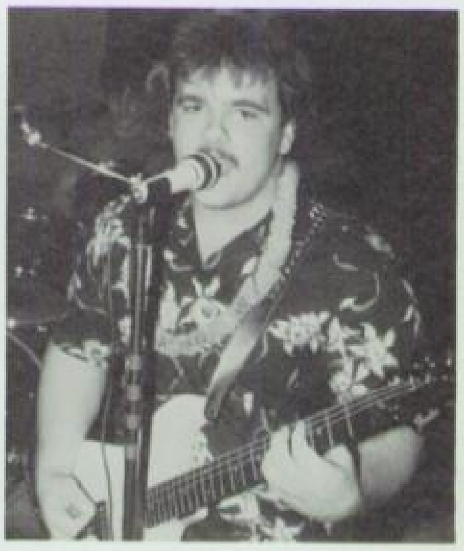
Dancing was the main attraction at this beach party.

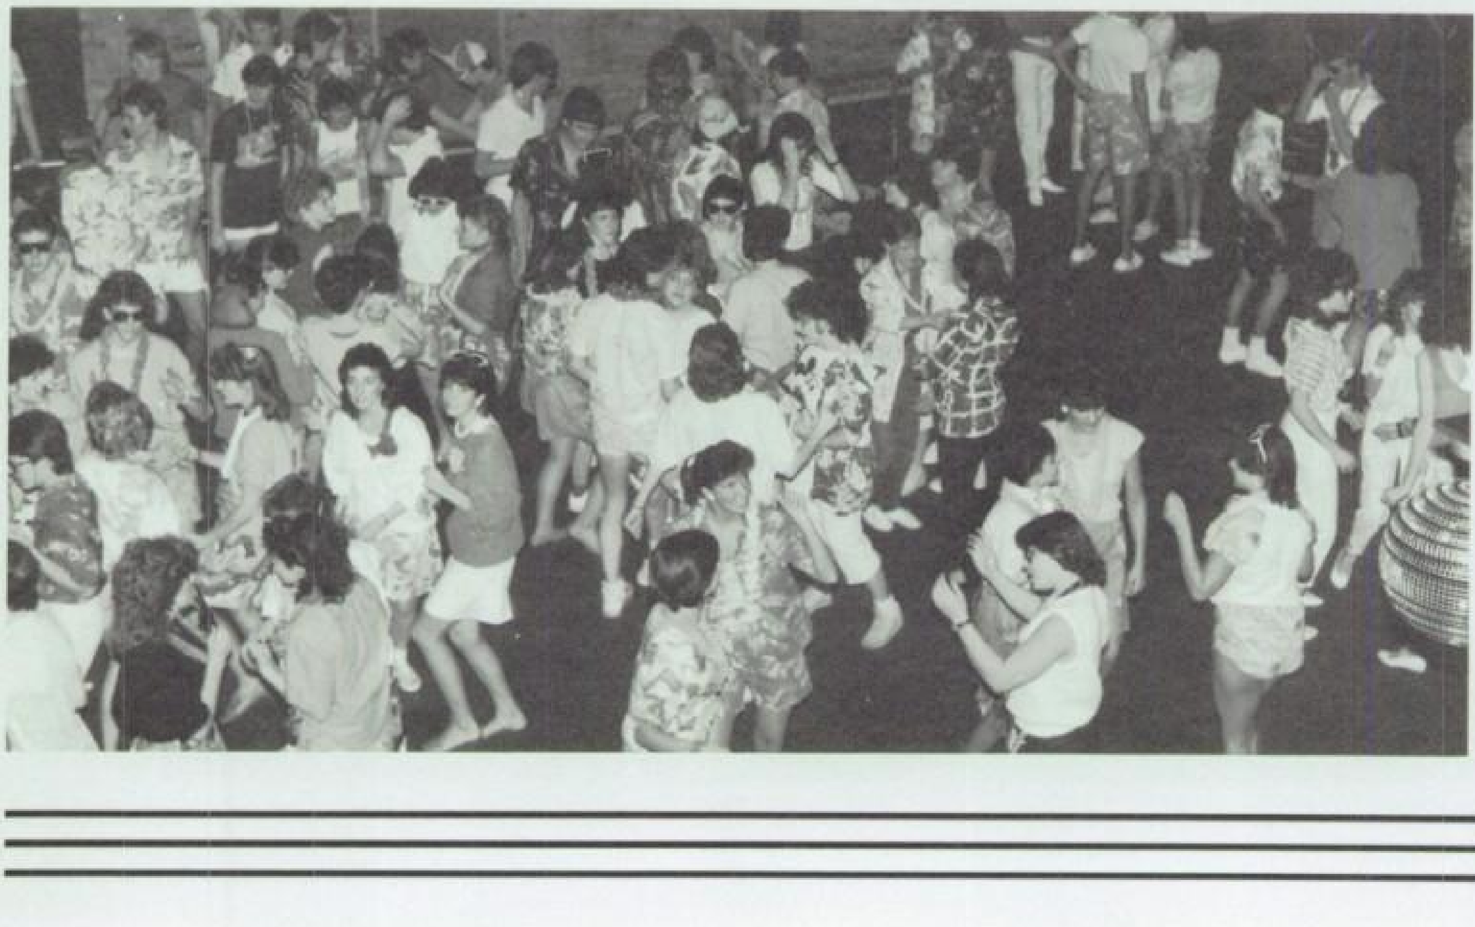
The 1986 Morp Beach Party was a huge success. The commons area was filled with enthusiastic Grove City High School students. A very large video screen brought life to the music which everyone was dancing to. Several competitions, including a hula hoop and a grass skirt contest, added to the fun of this great party.

This is a side of Mr. Hampson many of us never get a chance to see.

"May I have this dance?"

Junior Rob Pyles does the Limbo!





Scott Walton sang for everyone.

Everyone loves to dance!

Just being with your friends made the evening special.

The Spring Fling

Being the last informal dance of the school year, the Spring Fling was a big hit. Students and faculty members were very excited because they knew summer was right around the corner. Everyone wore bright-colored spring clothing and sunglasses. The Music King supplied the tunes while everyone danced the night away. Student Council sponsored the dance for a money making project for Youth to Youth to promote a drug free life.The dance was a success which proved that drugs were not needed to have a good time.

As seen here, the turnout for the Spring Fling is great, especially because it is sponsored by Student Council, with all profits going to Youthto Youth.

The Spring Fling brought many new styles of clothes into view as seen here.

Spring Break '86

NO GAIN

As soon as the month of March appeared, everyone at Grove City High School was ready for Spring Break. With the warm weather came many things we do not regularly see. Some of these things were shorts, sunglasses, suntans, convertibles, and motorcycles. Many students and faculty members went on trips to places such as Florida, California, Hawaii, and practically every other place in the States. Then Everyone returned with bright-colored T-shirts and dark suntans. Even those who stayed in Grove City had a good time.

''Here Lies Jeremy Troy''

Soon after the curtains were drawn for the fall play, the search for a spring play began. Here Lies Jeremy Troy turned out to be the winner. Mrs. Sandra Price distributed the scripts and the auditions were on. Very soon the cast and crew were selected.

The cast included seniors Anna Weaver and Tonya Turner, juniors Scott Myers and Darren Dean, and sophomore Eric Myers.

Under Mrs. Price's guidance and with the help of an able-bodied crew, the students, staff and parents enjoyed a great production.

Anna Weaver and Scott Myers give Darren Dean an accusing look as he plays his part.

Acting is a demanding pastime as Scott Myers, Darren Dean and Tonya Turner display here.

Creating the effects that acting can't are the crew members for the Drama Club. They are juniors Paul Kavicky and Mark Borden; sophomores Julie Bolin, Angela Turner, and Tina Hollingshead; freshmen Ben Canable, Tracy Snyder, Carol Brown, Lisa Price, Cindy Yates, Tawnya Sonders, Beth Six, and Paula Tankovich.

Situating the props is Scott Myers' way of releasing some of his stage fright.

Seniors Awarded

The Senior Awards Assembly was a huge success. Many seniors received awards and most did not know thay would be receiving those awards. A nice added touch was having the parents of the recipients there also. The assembly was followed by a senior luncheon.

Seniors Feast at Breakfast

Although it was the last day of school, just about every senior made an effort to get to the Senior Breakfast. Many of the Class of '86 realized it would be the last time the entire class would eat together.

Thanks to the administrators and staff, the seniors enjoyed a great breakfast.

Waiting in line isn't so bad when you know a good breakfast is coming.

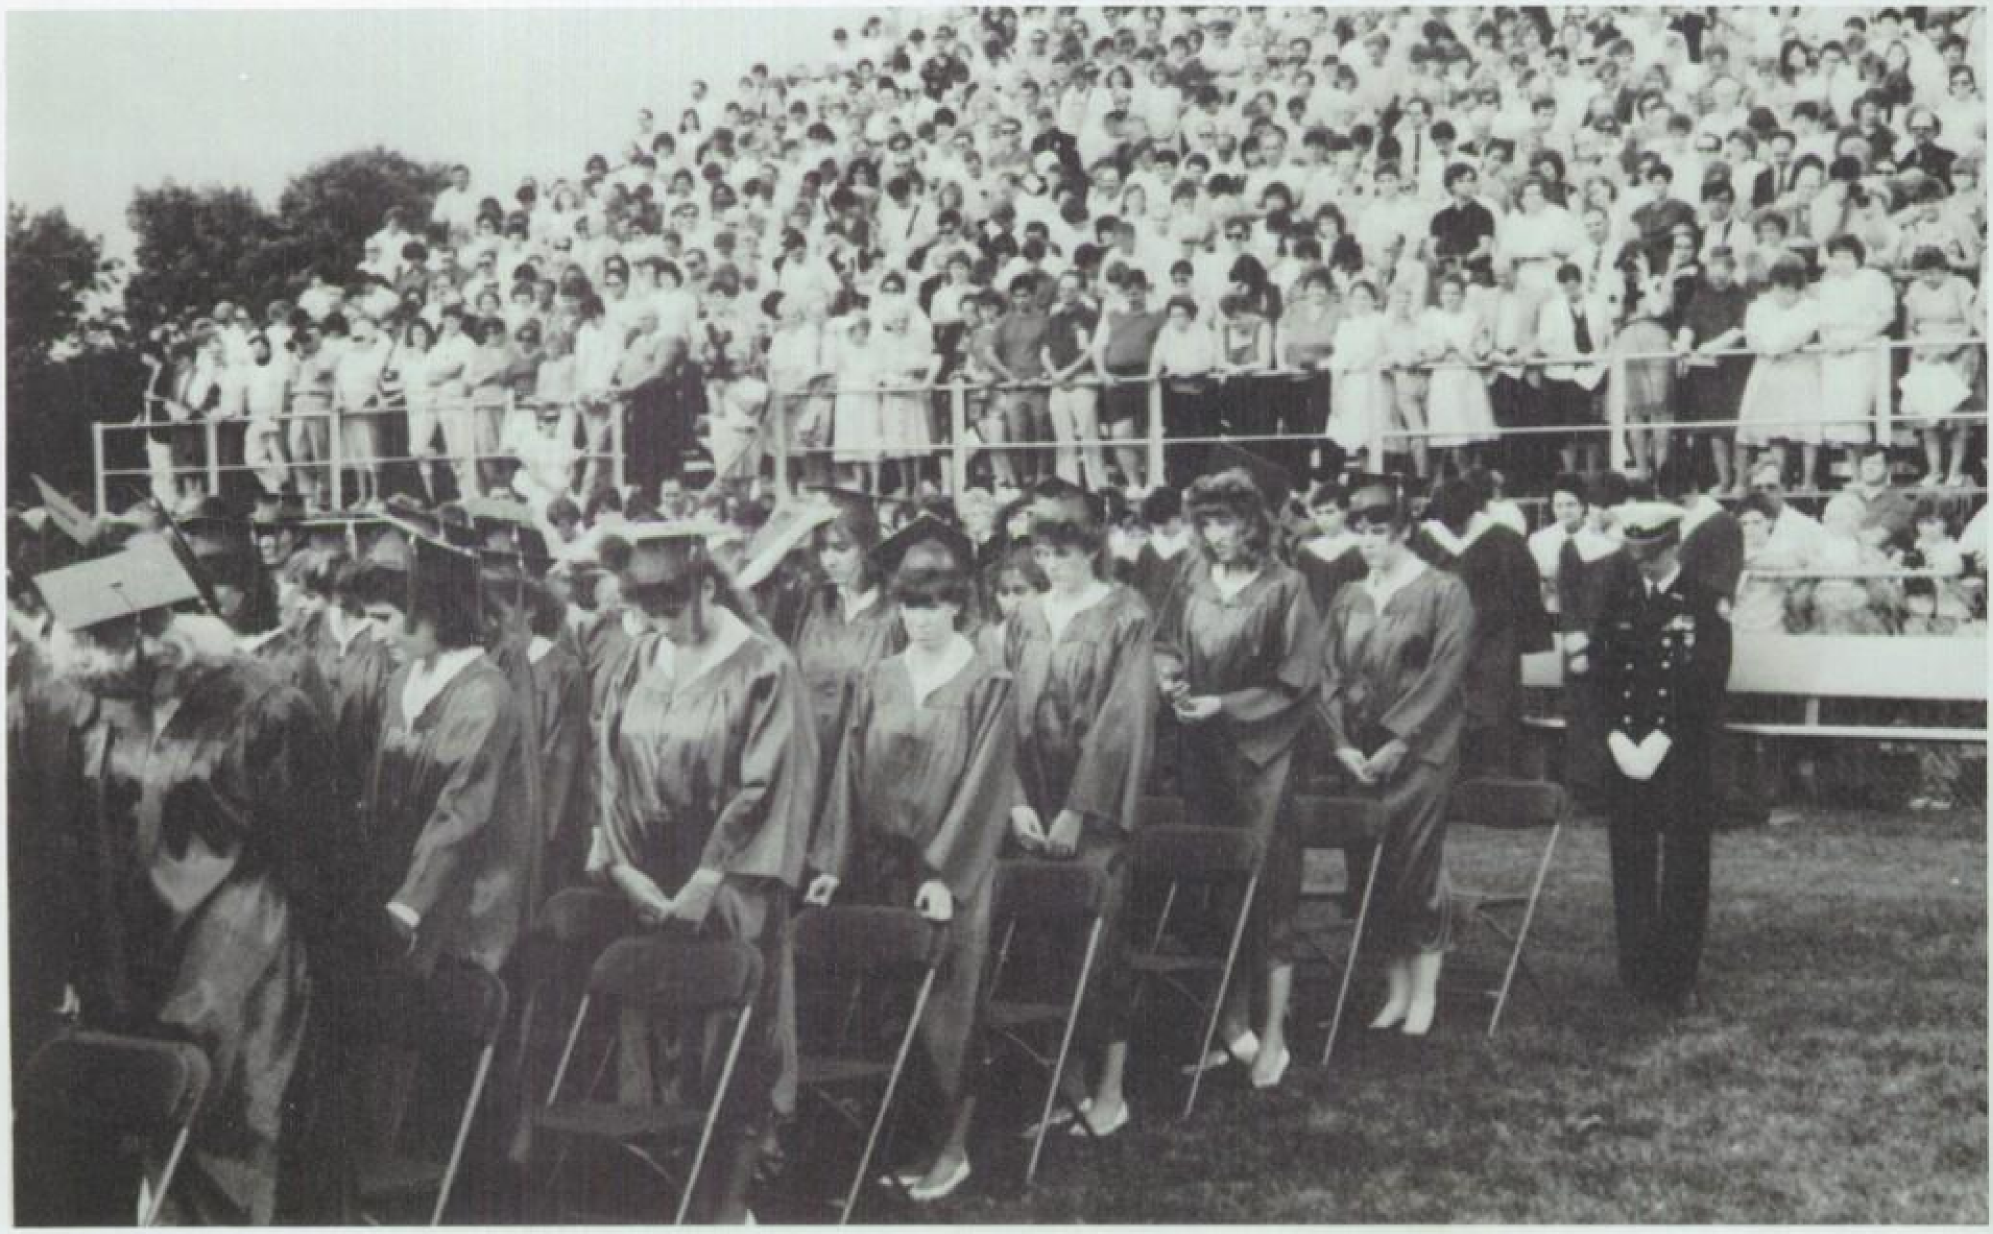
While the graduates file into the stadium, the hundreds of friends and relatives look on.

Anxiously awaiting the time of graduation was not easy for the Class of 1986. As usual, however, the true Greyhound spirit came through; all the graduates appeared at school at 6:30 on Sunday evening, June 15, 1986.

With inspiring words from Dana Tyler, WBNS-TV newsperson, Grove City High School and South-Western City Schools gave society an excellent group of graduates, equipped to face a wide variety of challenges.

Pausing for the invocation, graduates and onlookers prepare for the long-awaited event.



Receiving gifts of appreciation from the Class of '86 are Mrs. Eileen Reiff, Mr. James Lamb and Mr. James Lester.

Also receiving appreciation from the class is Mr. Thomas Rutan, Grove City High School principal.

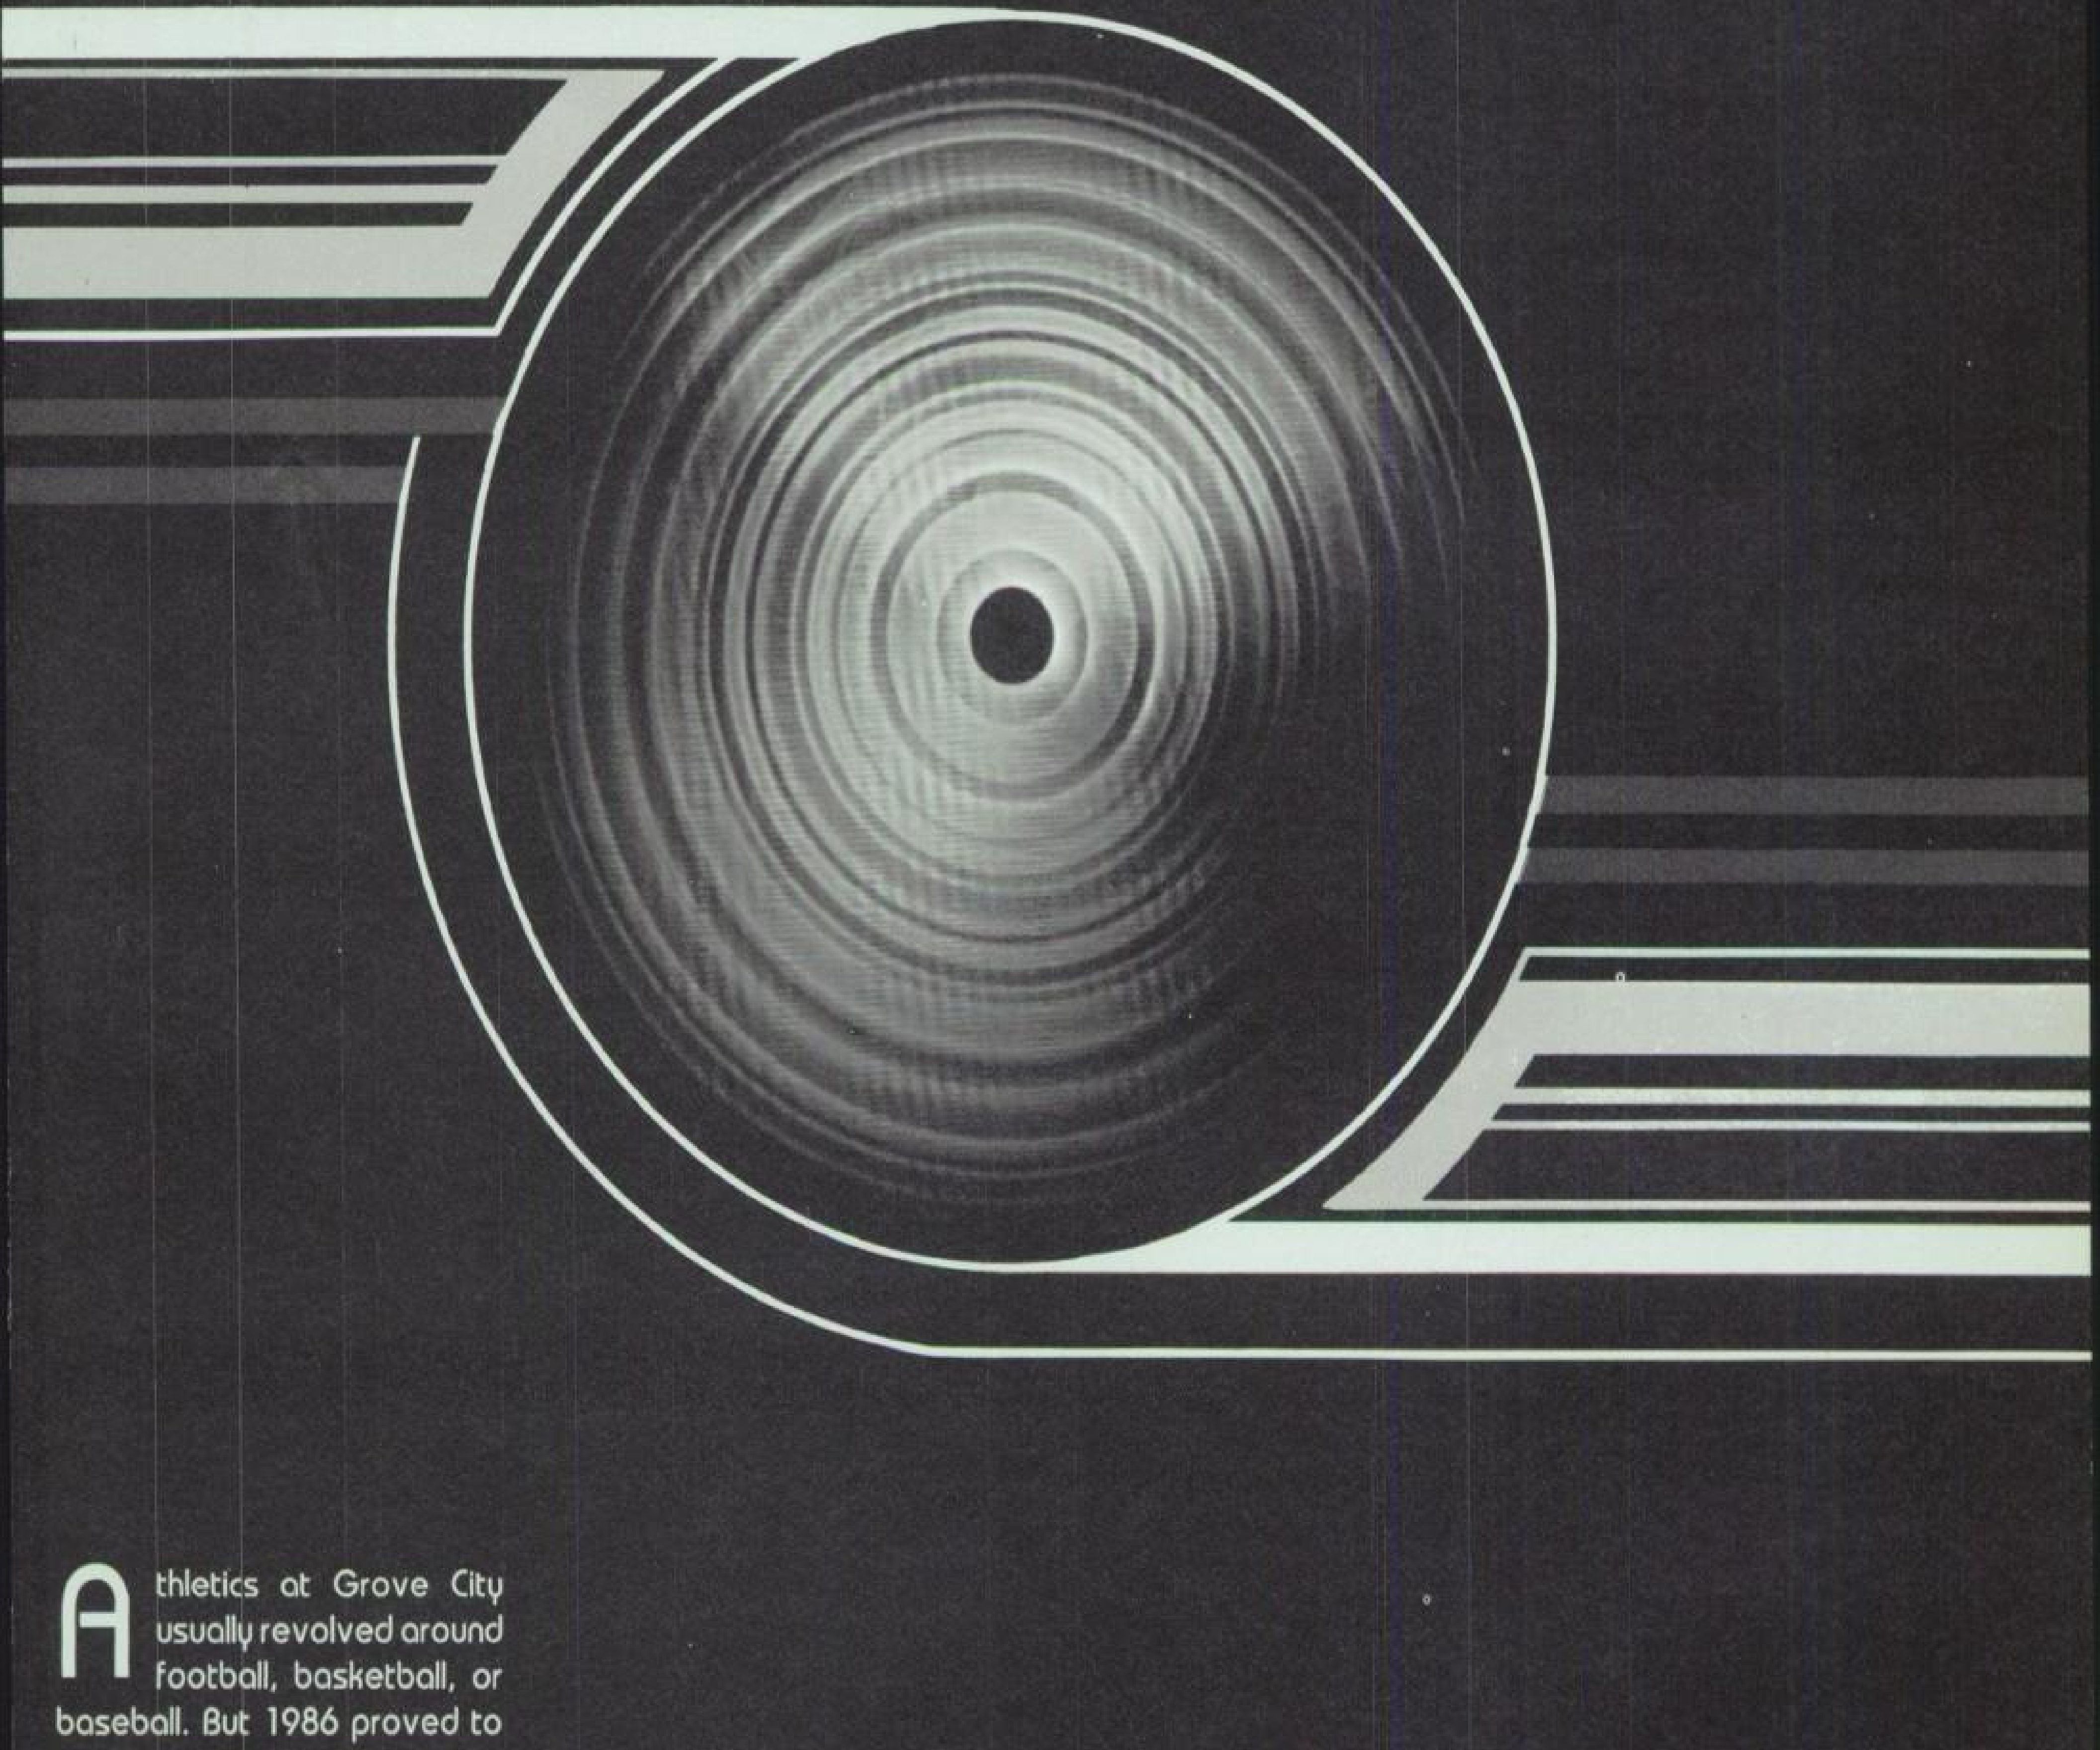
Pick Hits of Athletics



Athletics at Grove City usually revolved around football, basketball, or baseball. But 1986 proved to be a year that found new hits. One such hit was tennis which found freshman Ann Grossman capturing the first state tennis championship for G.C.H.S. Another was cross country with freshman Anne Bornholdt reaching the regional cross country meet. These are just two of the many sports that produced hits which reached the top of the charts.

We Know, We Can, We Will

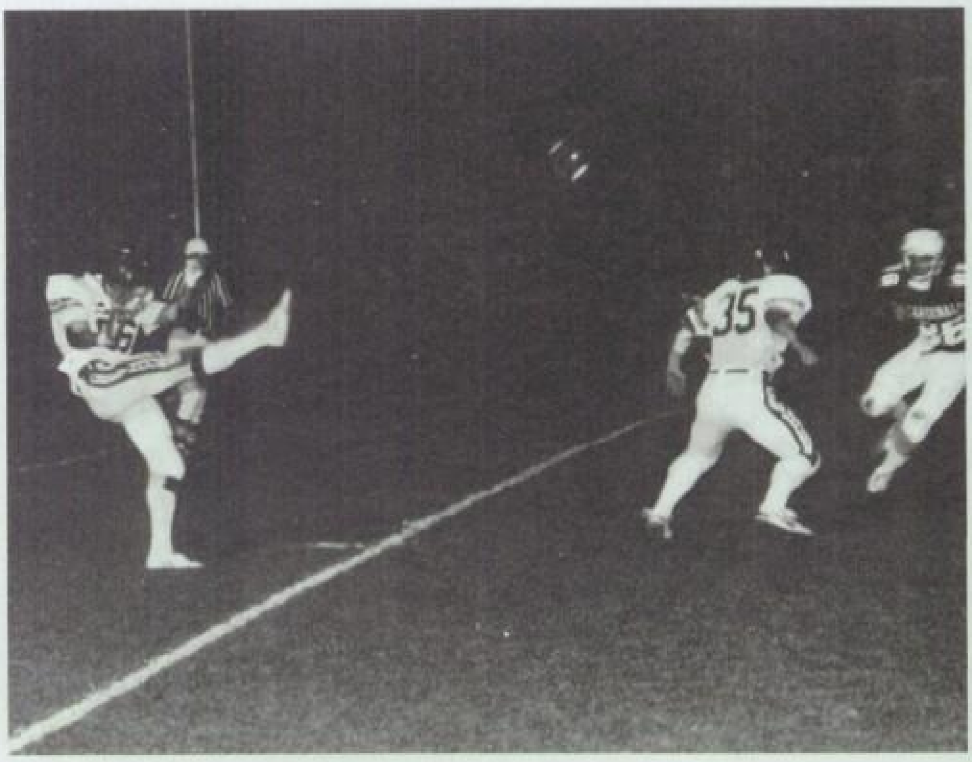
The coaches, cheerleaders, and football players take time from their busy schedule for a team picture.

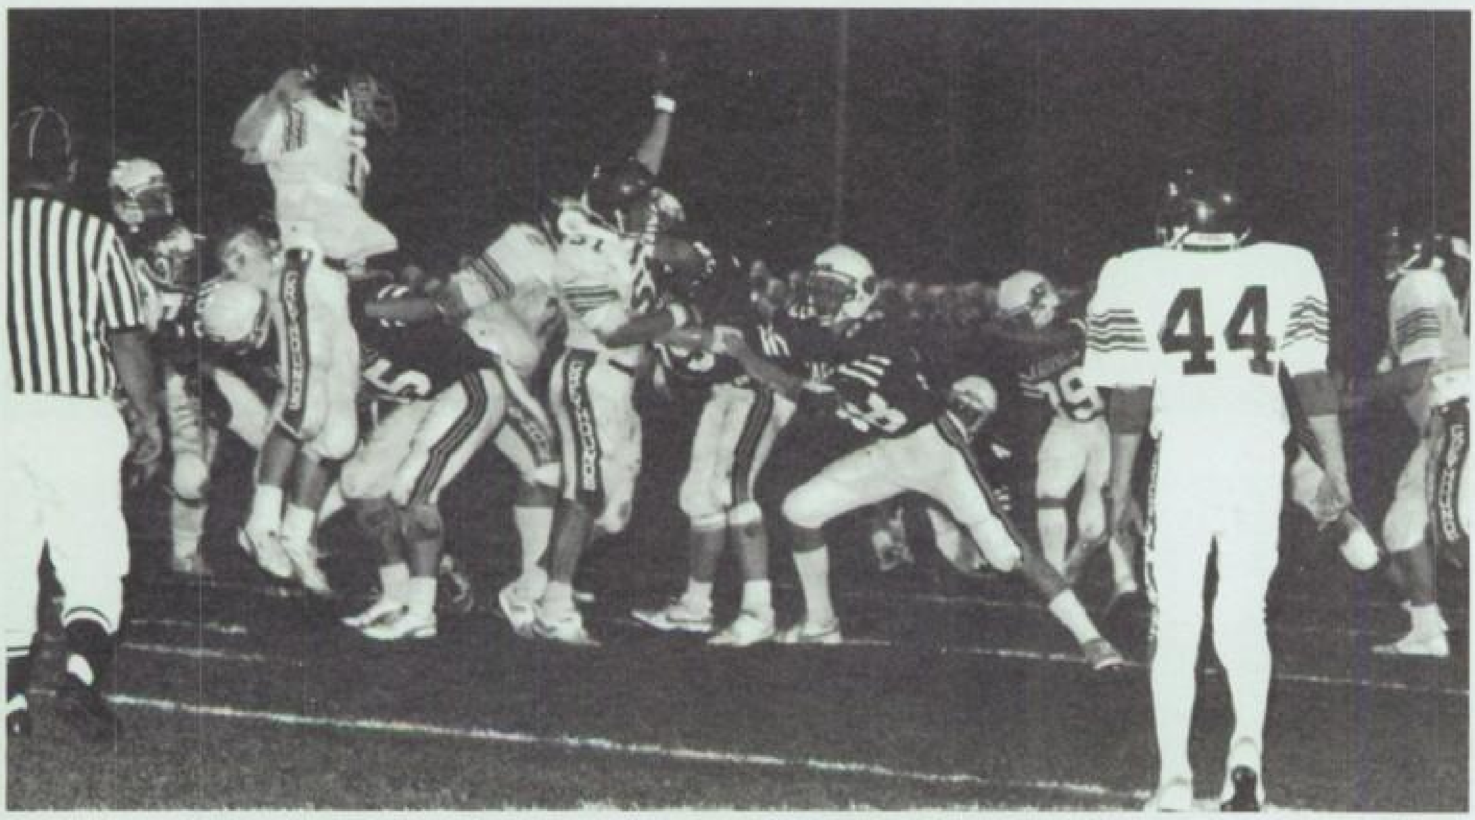
Even though the Grove City High School football team did not have a successful season, a lot could be said for the spirit with which the team played. The Hounds were lead by captains Matt Purdy, Ralph Wilkins, Brian Leist and Scott Goldsmith. The season began with a very good game against a very tough Dayton Dunbar team, which alluded to a possible winning season, but because of injuries and a lack of depth, that season was not realized.

Ralph Wilkins keeps his balance as, he drags a Groveport Cruiser down the field.

The spirit of the team was made evident by the individual effort of some of the players. Ralph Wilkins, who received the team MVP, Pride/Hustle/Desire, and Best Defensive Back awards, played an inspired season at many different positions. Best Offensive Back went to Scott Goldsmith, who sat out a number of games with injuries. Best Offensive Lineman went to Brian Leist, who, along with Student Athlete Mark Bishop, anchored a secure front line. Best Defensive Lineman was awarded to Matt Purdy. Sean Bowman earned the Most Improved and Ball Hawk awards.

Don Blankenship lets the ball fly as he performs the punting duties.





Coach Lear leads the football team around to the buses before a big away game.

Several football team members were further honored by being selected to the all OCC Team. Senior Hounds selected to the First Team were; Brian Leist - Offensive, and Matt Purdy - Defensive Line. Ralph Wilkins was named to the All OCC Second Team as a Defensive Back. Receiving Honorable Mention in the Ohio Capital Conference, on the Offensive Line, was Mark Bishop.

Soccer Hounds Triumph

Grove City High School varsity soccer during the 1985-86 season was one of the more exciting sports to attend. The season ended with a very impressive record of 14 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie.

Some of the players that were recognized for are as follows: senior Eugene Kirk, Best Offensive Player; junior Jamie Peters, Best Defensive Player; seniors Doug Coffey and David Eberhard, Most Valuable Players; senior Mark Clotts, Most Improved Player; junior Jeff Hammond, Leadership Award; junior Bob Shea, 110% Award; and senior Shawn Hannon, Sportsman Award. Doug Coffey scored the most goals, with a total of 33. Eugene Kirk was close behind with 22. Goalkeeper Shawn Hannon ended the season with 115 saves.

Team captains Doug Coffey and David Eberhard both made first team All Conference. Eugene Kirk also made first team. Jamie Peters made second team, and Jeff Hammond received honorable mention.

Junior, Bob Shea, stands alert and ready to defend any attempted score by the opposing team.

Every coach and every school dreams of having a state champion. In 1985 the dream came true for Grove City High School. Ann Grossman, freshman, finished the year undefeated with a 30-0 record and cruised to the state title without even losing a set. Ann also became the Region #3 and District champion. It was truly a remarkable year for this freshman.

The team also had an outstanding 1985 season, finishing with a 9 and 6 record and in fourth place in the OCC. Both of these were best-evers in girls' tennis.

Junior Cindy Cryder and sophomores Amy Wheeler, Jeni Handley and Missy Mechlin contributed greatly to the team's success. Also, sophomores Susie Zorich and Sandy Snyder received varsity letters even though it was their first year to play.

Ann Grossman received The Most Valuable Player Award. She was also selected All-OCC 1st Team, while Jeni Handley was selected Honorable Mention All-OCC.

The 1985 Grove City High School golf team finished better than any team in Grove City history. The team came away with a record of 9 wins and 5 losses in non league play, and 11 points in league competition. In the Gahanna Invitational, Grove City placed an astounding second with a score of 69. In the district tournament, the Hounds placed fourth with a score of 329. Leading Grove City was senior Dick Ozmun, who after 3 unsuccessful tryouts for the team, made it, then went on to an outstanding season. Also leading the Hounds was junior Greg Wickensimer, who had the lowest stroke average. The rest of the team was comprised of juniors Van Voss, Todd Lambert and Hank Gensler, who placed sixth in the individual category at the Gahanna Invitational, and sophomore Ryan Engard. The team was also under the guidance of Coach Lamb, who said, "The team has finally earned respect in the league, and will be even better in 1986."

Dedication Breeds Improvement

Very proud of their accomplishments this year,the cross country team takes a break to pose for a picture.

Cross Country was very much improved over the previous year. Sophomores Cindy Roehl and Joe Patton both received the most improved award, and junior Mark Sexton received a most improved award for a two-year period.

In the regionals, freshman Anne Bornholt was 20 seconds off of qualifying for the state. She also set the school record of 21:06 in the 5k. Sophomores Jim Patton and Joe Patton and junior Darron Roberts all set personal records that showed their dedication and willingness to work for their goals.

Mr. Bible, head coach, said that the team's improvements were the best he had ever seen.

Cheerleaders Show Spirit

Besides cheering the many basketball teams on to victory, the winter cheerleaders had many other cheering duties and privileges. The combined squads (football and basketball) cheered at the United Cheerleaders Association camp. The girls brought home a spirit stick and several superior and excellent ribbons for their efforts. They also had the opportunity to cheer for a United Way Benefit rally. The cheerleaders made it possible to let everyone show their enthusiasm during the school year.

Amy Wheeler shows her style in the 100 yard backstroke.

As the only member of the Grove City High School swim team, sophomore Amy Wheeler holds her position well. She had an excellent 1985-86 season placing first in both the 200 yard individual medley and 100 yard backstroke. At the state competition she placed tenth in the 200 yard individual medley and 18th in the 100 yard backstroke.

In her freshman year, Amy placed seventh in the 100 yard backstroke and third in the 100 yard breaststroke. At state competition she placed 14th in the 100 yard breaststroke.

Amy trains with the Westerville Aquatic Club throughout the year. When she is not swimming for the high school, she spends her time with USS Swimming.

Amy's goals are to win a state high school championship and to qualify for Junior Nationals.

Overcoming The Odds

The 1985-86 Varsity Basketball team had a very respectable season considering all of the sickness and injuries. "When one of our leading players went down sick", said Coach Miller, "it shot the rest of the team down".

The entire team played every game with the same intensity. Those that were lost were lost usually only by a few points. Each game was exciting and fun to watch. The crowd cheered the team and coaches on to the end of every competition.

Many of the Varsity players received individual awards for their efforts. They are as follows: MVP - Tim Dawson; Leading field goal % - Eric Saxton; Leading free throw % - Scott Emmelhainz; Leading rebounds - Brett Brandt; Mr. "D" - Jeff Swearingen; Hustle award - Scott Hay; Assists - Eric Saxton

J.V. Hoopsters Succeed

Success, all it takes is all you have got. This was the philosophy that helped the 1985-86 Junior Varsity Boys' Basketball team to a 15 and 5 season. The team was instructed by coach Jerry Englehart. The managers were Jeff Denney, Mike Hoagland, and Chuck Frabott. Coach Englehart maintained that the successful season was due to a total team effort. After going 6 and 4 in the first half of the season, the team pulled together and won 9 of its last 10 games. Going into the last game of the season, Grove City and Worthington were tied for first in the OCC. Grove City lost 64 to 58 to take second place honors. Only one award was given. Marc Hartig was given the Most Improved Player honor.

Freshmen Build For The Future

Freshman Jeremy Webb narrowly escapes a block to lay up two points for the Hounds.

1985-86 marked a season of ups and downs for the Freshman Basketball Team coached by Keith Bell. The season began with eight players being ineligible because of an illegal game played in the previous season. Things began slowly, but improved later. In a game against Westerville North, which was the only undefeated team in the area, the Hounds lost 61-59 on a last second shot. The team played, as Coach Bell said, "as well as any frosh team since I have been a coach." At the end of the season, several awards were given at the awards banquet. Jeremy Webb received the Most Improved award. Brant Cryder was given the Coaches award, and Matt Kenawwas named the Scholar Athlete. Look for good things from these Hounds.

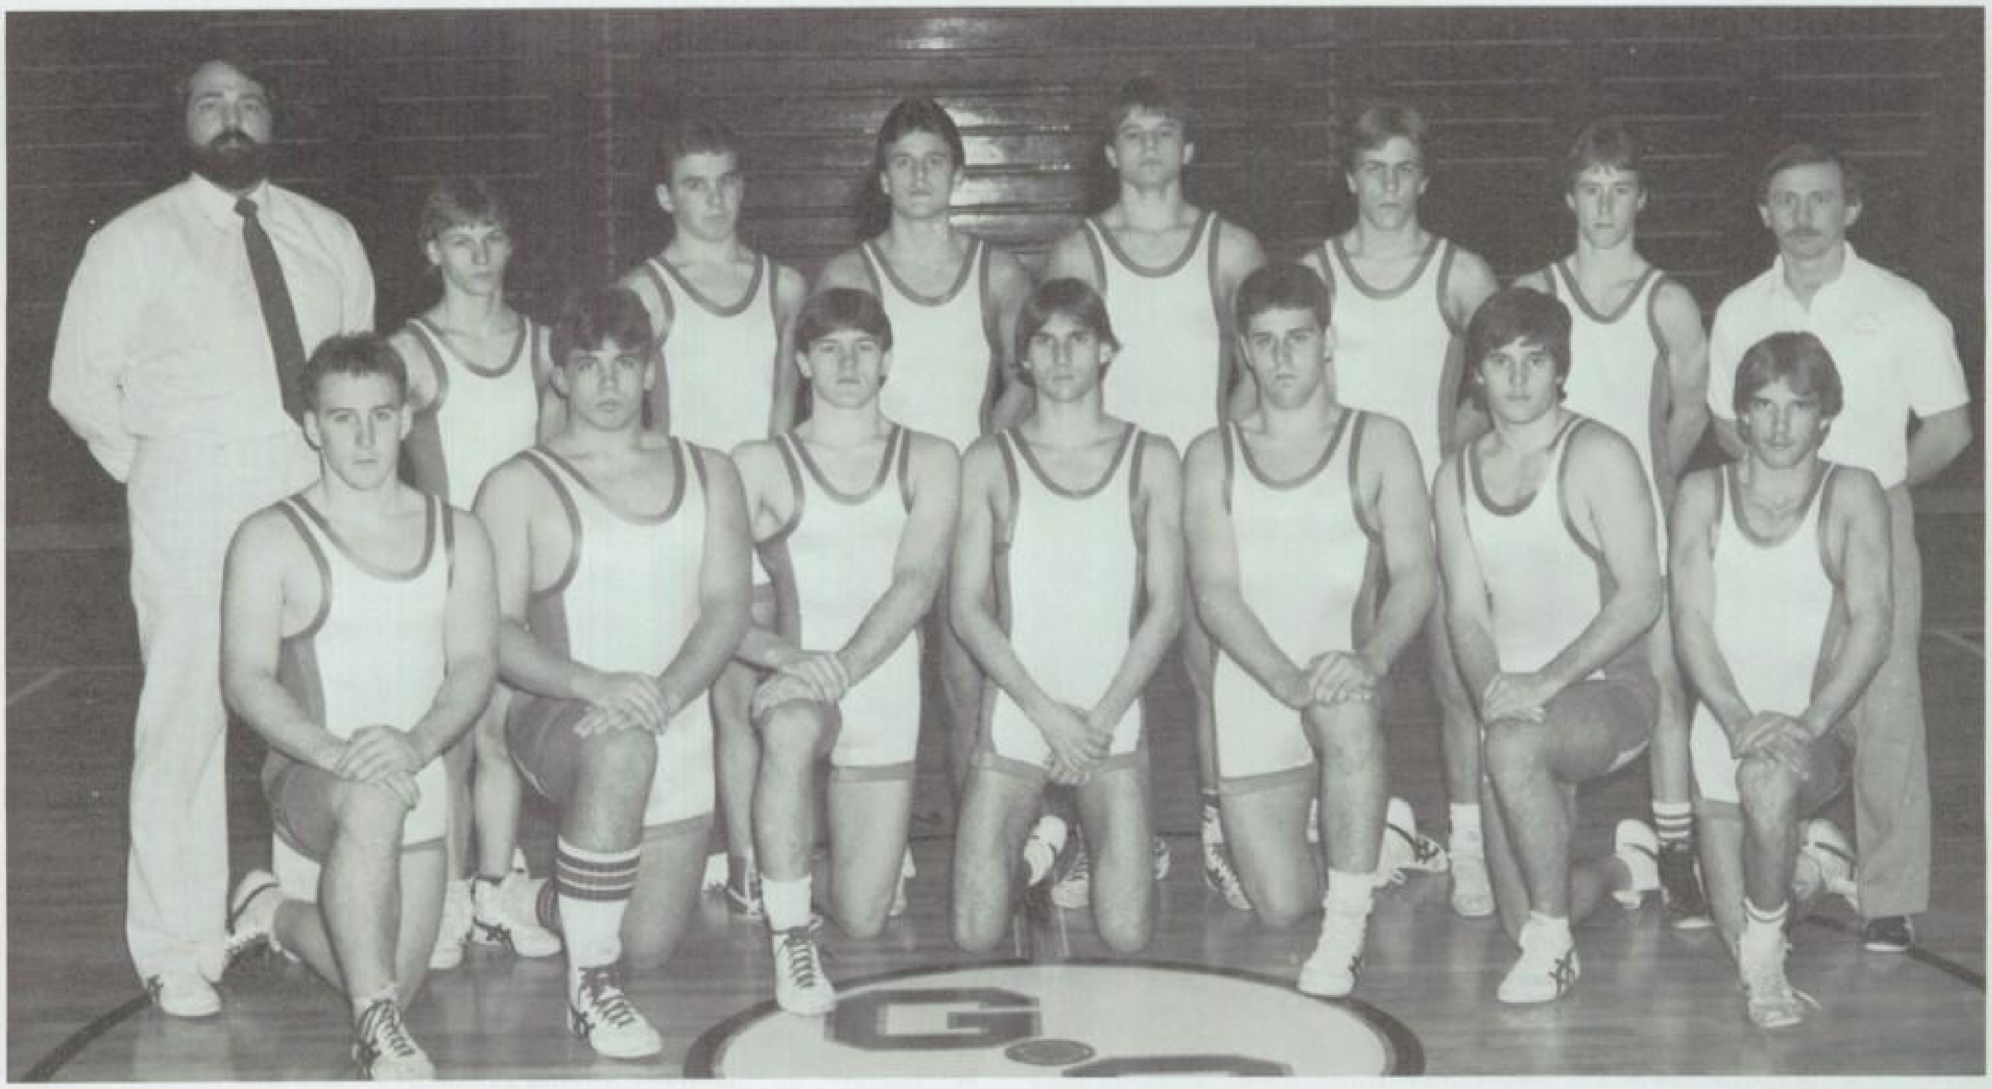
Wrestlers Triumph!



Wrestling typifies what is meant by "all for one and one for all." It is a sport that combines personal achievment and the team concept. The 1985-86 Varsity Wrestling Squad,coached by Moe Stevens and Jerry Brantum, received many great performances that lead to a successful season. Ralph Wilkins, John Kessler, Paul Ray, and Bob McWhorter did well in the Districts and went on to the Regional Tournament. Paul Ray was named to the First Team All OCC. Bob McWhorter was named to the Second Team All OCC and John Jahn was given Honorable Mention. JV Girls Strive Hard Eventhough the girls junior varsity softball team had a losing record, it was the best seaason for a girls JV softball team in greyhound history. The girls finished the season with an 8-11-1 record. Sophomore Jama Weethee led the team and received the MVP award. Freshman Lynette Starner won the Most Improved award. Freshman Chris Gall received the Pride, Hustle and Desire award. Great things are expected from these young lady greyhounds in the future.

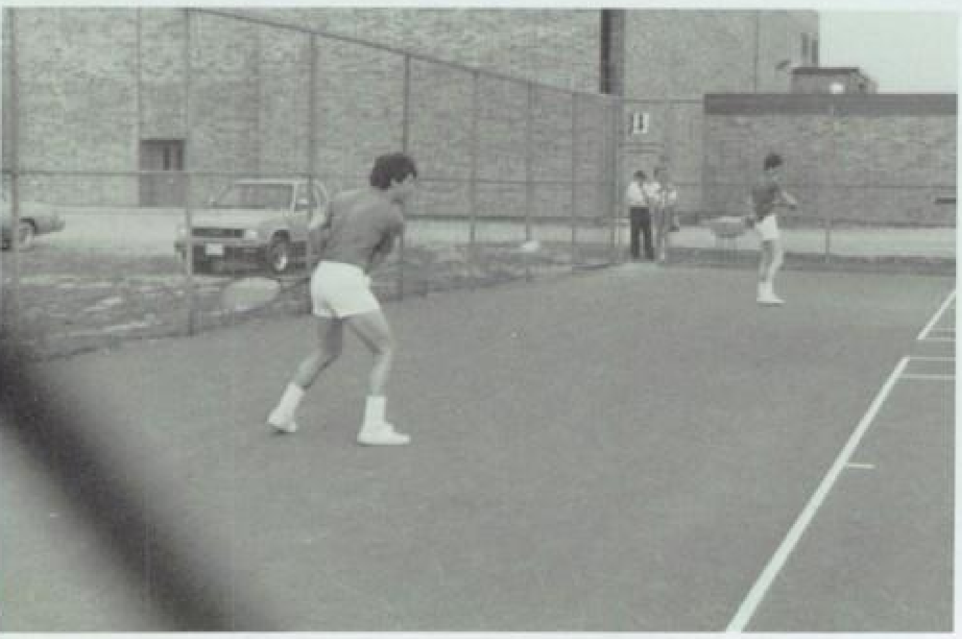
On To Wimbledon

The 1985-86 edition of the boys' tennis team stands ready to begin a new season.

Entertaining the rest of the team, Brant Cryder chases after a "phantom" tennis ball.



Ryan Steinhauser and Dan Wodarcyk get some practice shots in before a big match.

Senior Dan Wodarcyk eagerly awaits a serve so he can return it for a win for the Hounds.

A new school year brings many new challenges. The 1985-86 boys' tennis team, coached by Jerry Englehart, was not without these challenges. The season was filled with many ups and downs, but the team met each challenge with a valiant effort. This team was a relatively young team, so good things are expected in 1987. The seniors' experience, however, will be sorely missed.

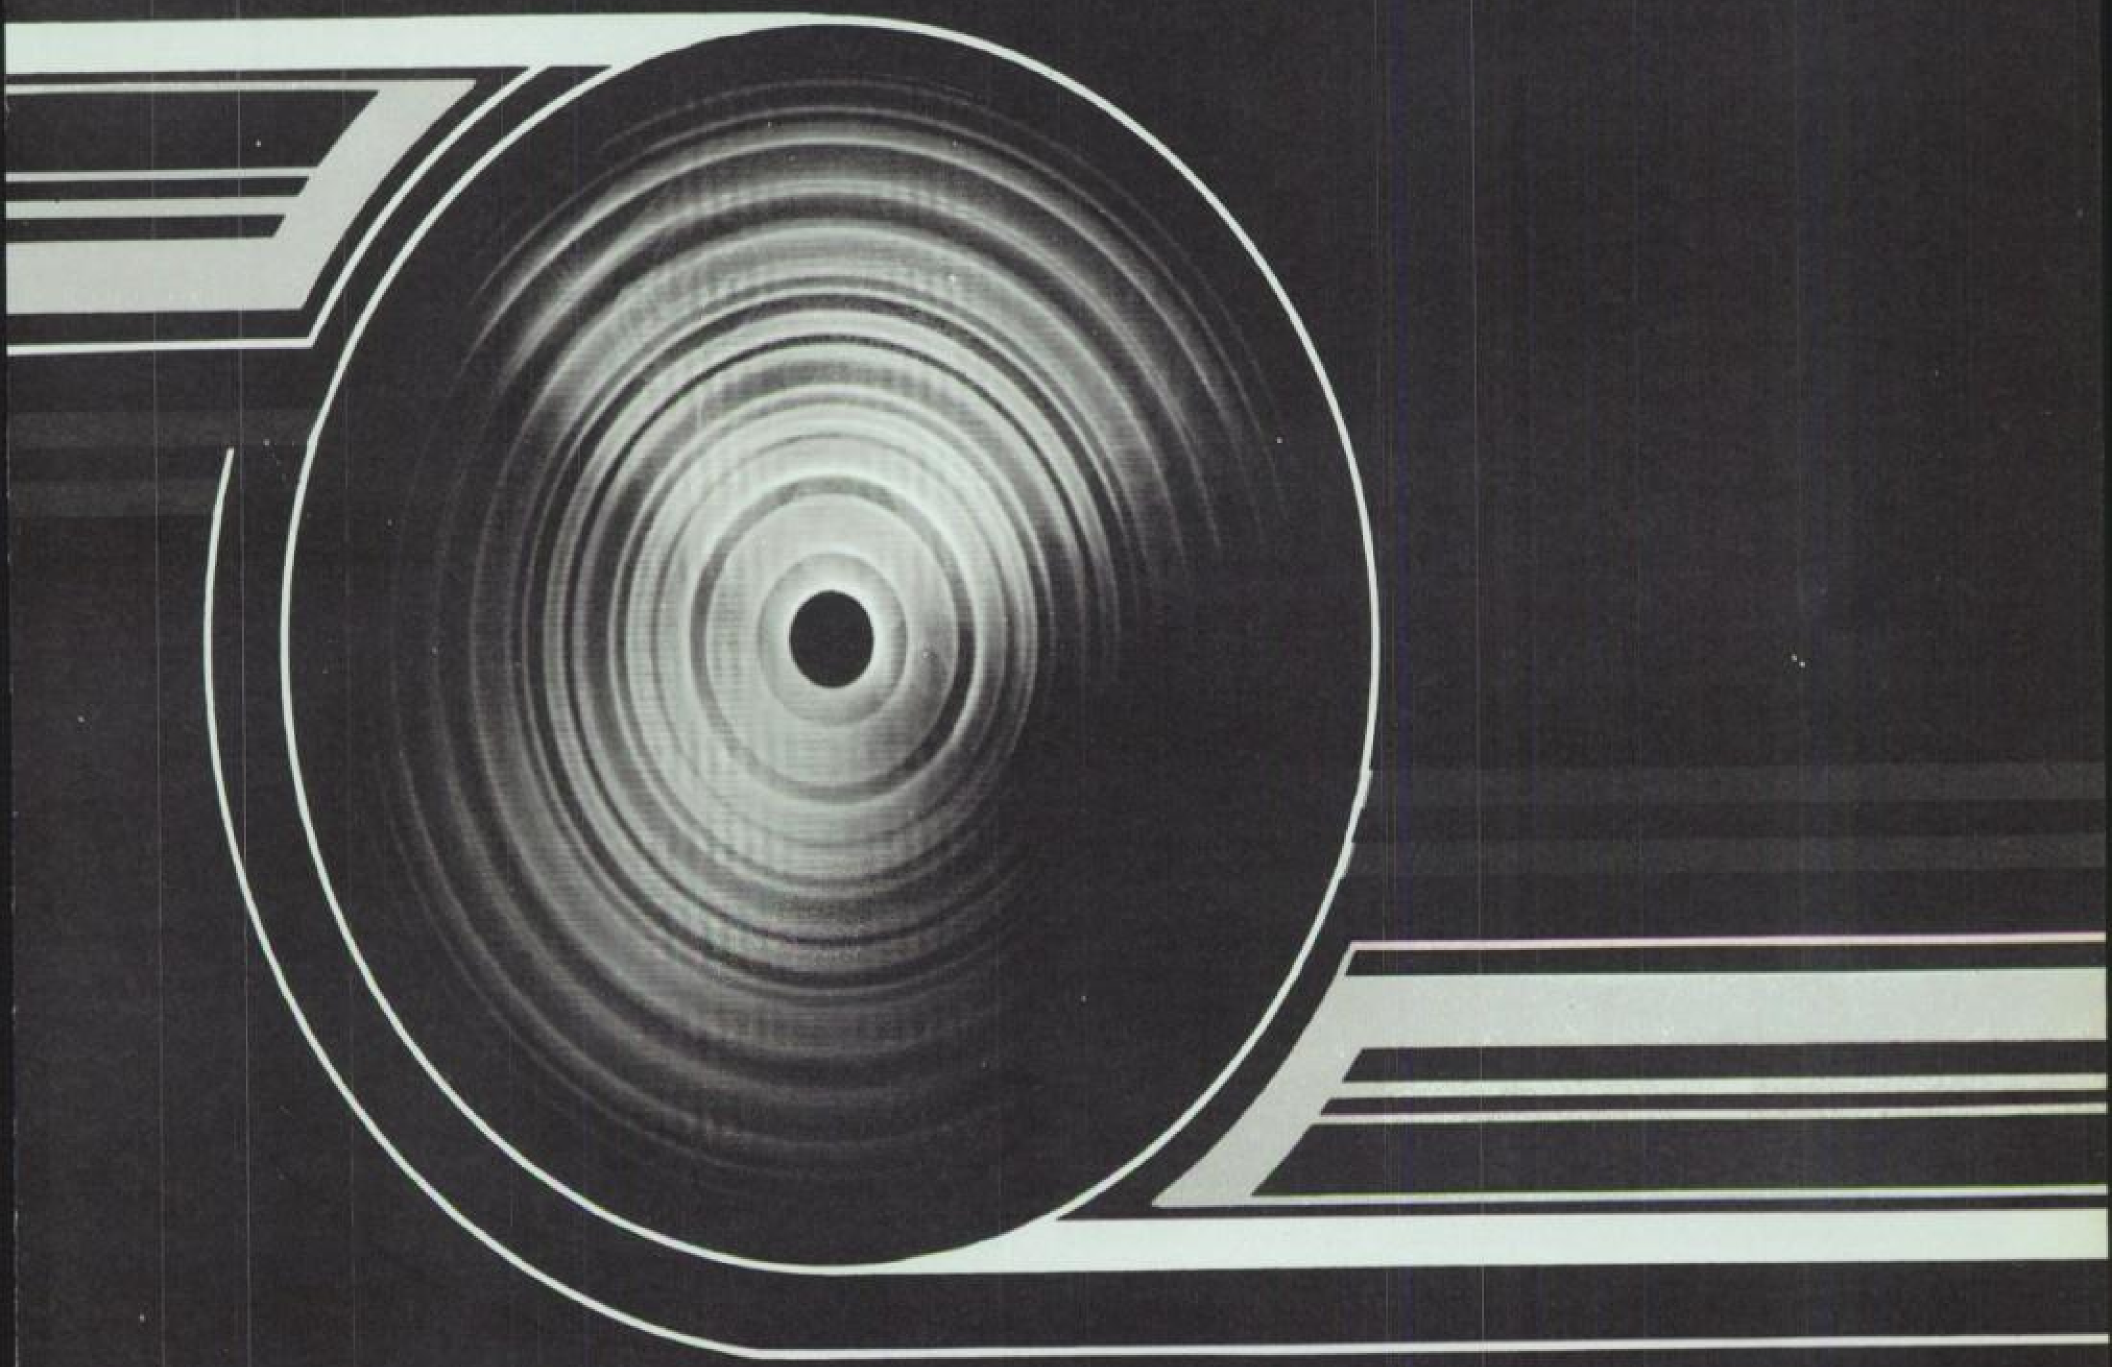
Pick Hits of Academics



Aside from the usuals like math, English, social studies and science, Grove City High School offered many different hit classes for students to choose from. Some of these classes that offered students interesting changes were art, foreign languages, ROTC, and horticulture. Another new class that was a big hit was Quest. It was introduced in 1985 for the first time in the school's history and became an instantaneous winner. During the school year students realized high school was no longer just the basics.

Preparing for the Future at

Auto body and auto mechanics students at Paul C. Hayes Technical School work hard for their education. Some people wonder if there is a difference between the two courses-there is! Auto body is like the name says-they work on repairing the bodies of automobiles. Auto mechanics, however, concentrate on diagnosing, analyzing, and correcting malfunctions in the systems of automobiles. Auto mechanics learn a variety of skills and acquire much-needed knowledge to be successful in their field.

Senior Auto Tech students Pat Griffith, Don Charles, Larry Tumer, and John Miller work on the engine of this Camaro.

The junior Auto Tech students still have much to learn about their trade.

Senior Auto Tech students have to use their muscles to work on car engines.

With drill in hand, junior Rob Pickup shows his skill at mechanics.

Brian Curnutte demonstrates one of the many skills he has learned in Auto Body-spray painting!

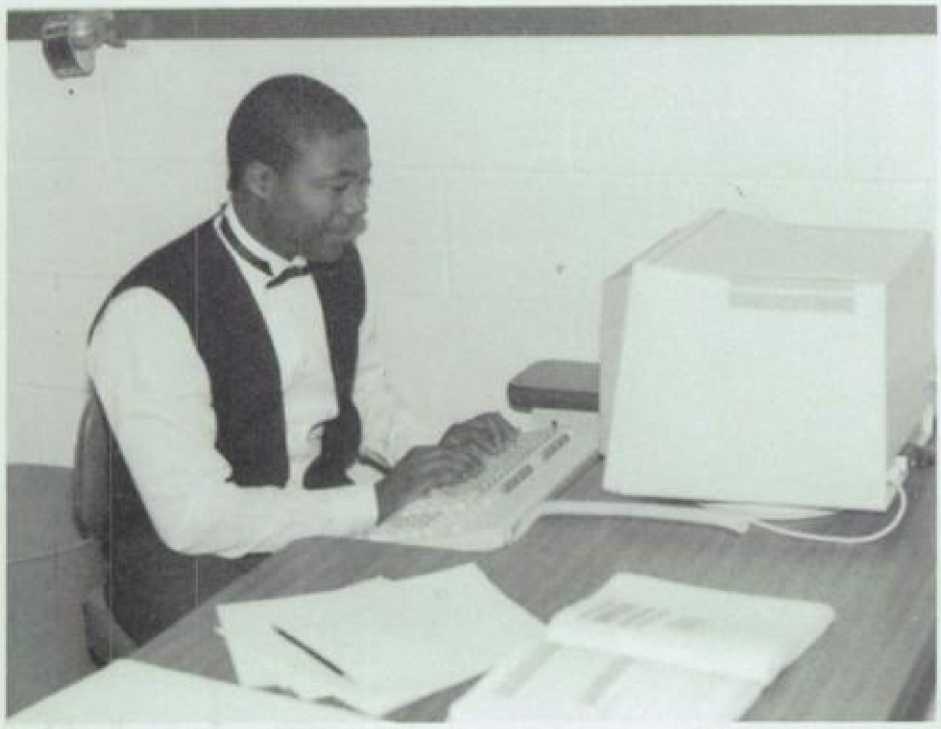
Paul C. Hayes Tech School

Senior carpentry students pose in front of their housing project.

Carpentry students are trained in the proper use and care of construction power and hand tools. Most interesting of all is the experience gained from the actual construction of a house.

Data processing trains students in areas of office machines, unit-record equipment, and operating and programming a NCR Century 100 computer.

Data processing seniors can get a good job after graduation.



Junior David Hoke appreciates the experience he received.

Junior data processors are ready for their future careers.

Seniors and Juniors Work

Cosmotology students had a lot to gain from the Tech School. Not only did they learn how to cut and style hair, but they also learned some basic beauty skills, like manicures.

Dental assisting students were introduced to a wide variety of skills which included chair-side assisting, office management, and laboratory procedures. Students who enjoy helping others, enjoy dental assisting.

Seniors Kristine Allenand Chandra Dressel are future dental assistants.

Melinda Sherrod, Kathy Snyder, Tracy Moore, Todd Krotky and Christine Morris are cosmotologists.

Juniors Kathi Spears, Jenny Hargis and Missy Baker are ready to cut and style your hair.

Juniors Danette Campbell and Kristin Haller show their great "chair-side" manners.

Junior Racquel Boyce works on a wig to practice her styling and cutting skills.

Together for Their Education

Senior electronics students are Joe Sahr, Eugene Kirk, Dan Hook, Steve Treinish and Dan Winnestaffer.

One of the requirements in legal/medical is to dress nice, and these junior ladies do a good job of it.

The junior electronics class has their future planned and ready.

Annette Higginbotham and Kim Funk are the seniors in legal/medical.

Electronics students didn't mess around when they were at the Tech School. They had many laboratory experiments to prepare them to enter a field of electronics.

Legal/medical secretaries developed knowledge and skills in the areas of court and free lance reporting. Some of the skills include machine shorthand dictation and typewriting techniques.

Juniors John Baltzer, John Hancock, and Bob McWhorter work on one of the machines in electronics.

Printing and Machine Trades

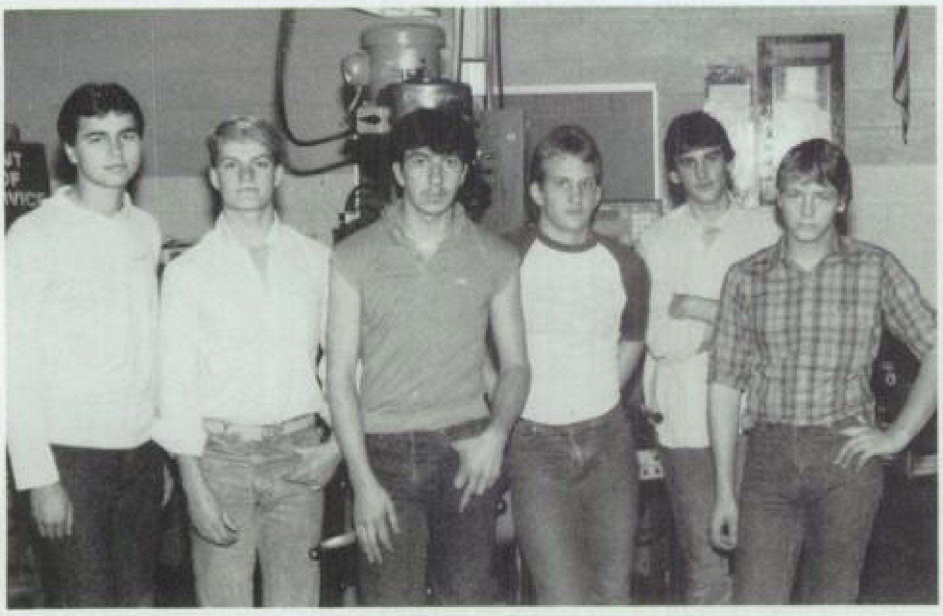
Machine trades has much to offer for students in the course. They get an opportunity to use and develop skills with a large number of machine tools. They learn the various uses of metal grinding, sawing, boring machines and others.

Printing provides a wide range of student interest and abilities, The course includes the layout and design of printed matter, utilizing the latest methods and techniques of graphic reproduction.

The printing teacher helps seniors Brian Leist and Jim Brown with one of the printing machines.

Senior printers include Kim Todd, Barbara Montgomery, Deseree Hoermle, Jim Brown and Brian Leist.

Seniors Jon McNeal and Chris Wilson pose in front of some of the machines they use in machine trades.



These juniors in machine trades have much to learn next year.

The junior printers have big smiles for their yearbook picture!

Truck Mechanics and Welding

All welders must wear glasses to protect their eyes. These junior welders typify this rule.

Truck mechanics learn many things in this two year course. They are specially trained on engines and transmissons. Students also learn preventive maintenance, proper inspection and servicing of brake systems, steering mechanism, wheel bearings, fuel, and electrical systems, etc.

Welding offers students many opportunities to develop their skills relating to the three most common processes of arc, gas, or resistance welding.

These seniors have finished their last year of welding.

The junior truck mechanics look forward to next year.

Senior Melissa Grubb patiently sews on a piece of material.

Home Economics

Whether it was singles living, interior design, child development, or simply home economics, students were able to learn a great deal from Mrs. Linda James and Mrs. Jeanette List in the various classes in 1985-86.

To match colors and designs is important to these girls.

Mrs. James lends a hand to one of her students in home economics.

Concentration is a must to do well when using the sewing machine.

C.O.E. & I.O.E.

If you had any plans of going into the business world, then you probably are familiar with these two courses. C.O.E. & I.O.E. weren't your normal sit down and learn classes, though. Students enrolled in these classes spent only half of the school day here in class. Here they were taught the basic factors in business by typing various types of forms, for instance. The second part of the day was spent on the job. And they got to keep the money!! !!

Personal instruction is given to the students in this class.

The first part of the day includes typing forms and letters.

Occupational Work Experience

Occupational work experience programs are designed to instruct juniors and seniors in cooperative-working. Students spent part of their day in school taking required subjects and the remaining part of their day working at a job approved by the coordinator. This program motivated students by providing successful work experience to those who were discouraged with school and planned to start working full time after graduation.

Mr. Don Shipley poses with his O.W.E. I students.

Students in O.W.E. II have been working for 2 years with Mr. Shipley.

Senior Wendy Pontones works at Super-X as a result of O.W.E.

Quite an array of plants and flowers are grown in our horticulture department. This is a view of our greenhouse.

Horticulture

Where do all those flowers come from? Remember those banquets with the nice flower arrangements on the table? They were grown by our own horticulture department. They make their presence known by beautifying the school with the various plants and flowers that they grew. They have helped the school in more ways than just one, though. Many of the flowers that were sold during the year were grown by the class. Their contribution certainly helped raise money for some of the years activities. It was a great help and a great class.

Watering the plants doesn't promise to be easy work. It will take a while before these students are finished.

Caring for the plants is the chore of the students.

Mrs. Ronda Budd's senior ME class looks ready for work-and more!

The school store is a place every student visited many times during the school year. Although most people knew the store was run by Marketing Education students, few knew what else these students actually did.

The Marketing Education program was designed for students who planned careers in marketing and distribution. They had classes which taught the fundamentals of selling, display, merchandising, advertising, and human relations.

Comment allez vous? Vous comprenez Francais? If you speak French you probably understand what these two phrases mean. Maybe you should join French Club to study French a little more!

Like the other foreign languages, French has its own club for people interested in the further study of the language. Mrs. Velma Matusezewski takes a group of French students every two years to the country of romance (FRANCE) to compare their culture to ours.

Just like any other group, French Club has officers. In 1985-86 Tracy Weier was the president, Dennis McClure the vice-president, Lori Leithe the secretary, and Anna Weaver was the treasurer.

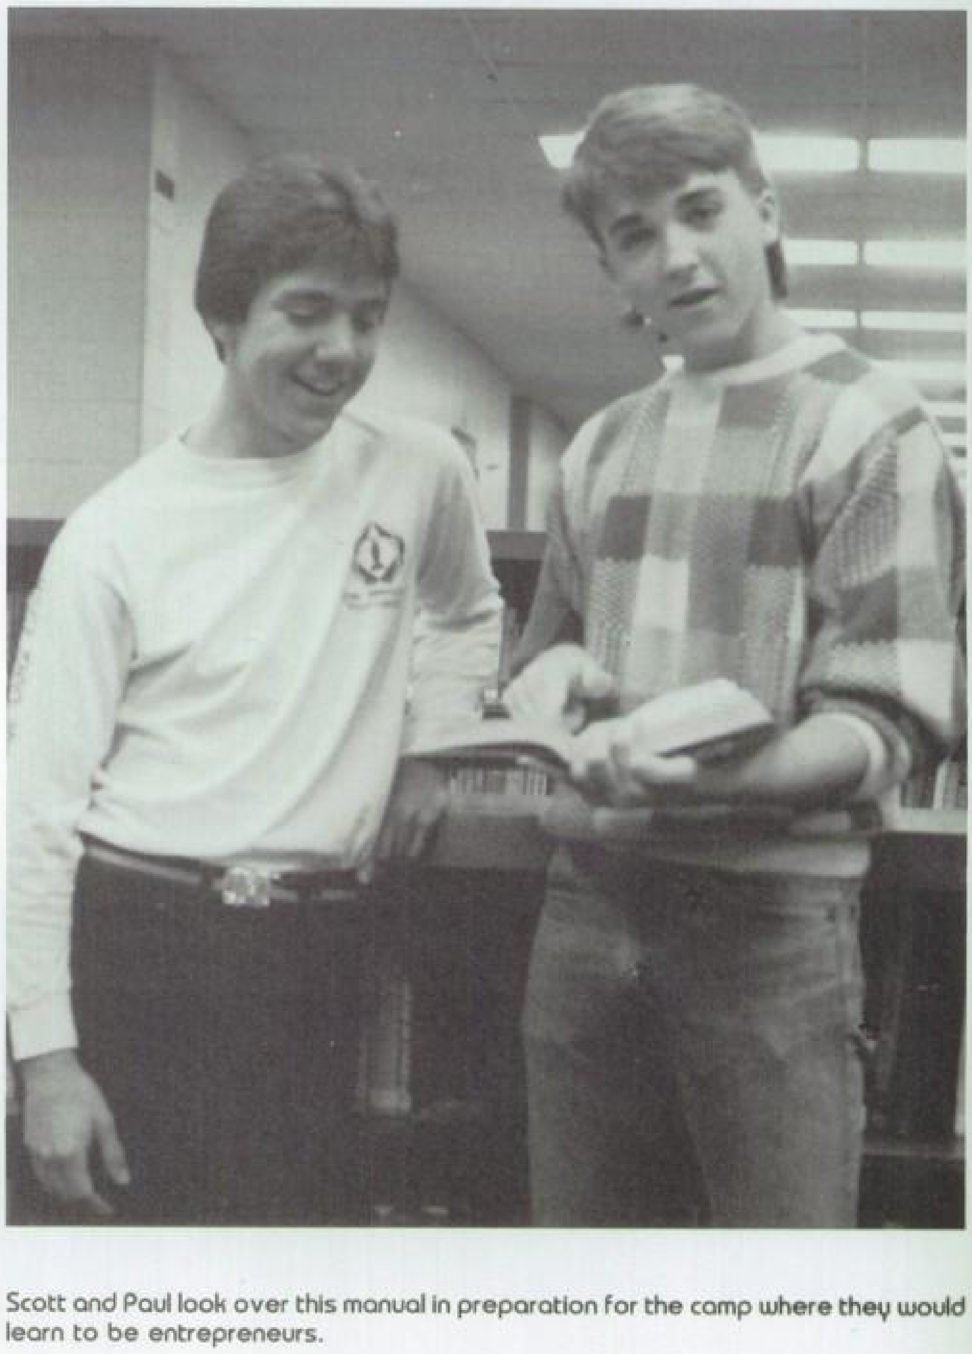
Pres. Tracy Weier leads the group while Madam M. looks on-or vice versa?

At the foreign language banquet, Mrs. Matusezewski helps serve the food-YUM!

Girls and Boys State/Camp Enterprise

These are the Girls and Boys state participants.

Several students had the opportunity to go to the annual state camps. The girls state delegate and alternates for the 1986 camp were Dawn Morbitzer, Christy Pratt, Michelle Derenberger, and Cheri Taylor. The delegates to boys state were Todd Gritter, Scott Blake, John Bartram, and Sean Adams. The members of the camp enterprise were Scott Blake and Paul Baltzer.



Scott and Paul look over this manual in preparation for the camp where they would learn to be entrepreneurs.

Many high school students help students having trouble in a subject.

HELP !!

Tutors are an important part of passing while in high school. You can find a tutor for every subject imaginable. It was also a good way to make a little money. Tutors would spend about an hour helping a student who was having trouble with a subject. Working one on one with someone who already had taken a subject made it much easier to get through the hard problems.

"Thanks Anna Weaver, you make this work a breeze!!!!!"

Indian Summer Campfire

Indian Summer Campfire will be held at the Battelle-Darby Creek Metro Park on Oct. 19, at 7 p.m. at the Ranger Station. After a hike in the woods to observe wildlife, participants will return to a fire and discuss some of the former and present Ohio wildlife. Bring something to grill and to sit upon.

Biology Class Helps ODNR

That is one big fish. Ryan Williams found this one in the creek during the outing, and that's no fish tale.

These students must wade through the water to find the small animals. Using nets, they probe the area carefully.

What does science mean to you? Does it mean large mathematic equations? Is it chemicals and tubes? Students in Frank Bolin's Biology class might not think so. For these students, science brings back memories of an exceptionally good experience in learning. In October, the class had a chance to come in contact with the animals they were studying. The advanced biology class went to study wildlife at Darby Creek. Members of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources assisted the students. They spent an afternoon collecting and checking various samples from the creek. Many went there and didn't want to touch the fish, and by the time it was through, were running their hands through the water in search of macroinvertibrates. This trip was enjoyed by all who attended.

A student and instructor go through the catch from one of the nets in search of important samples to be used later in tests.

english Classes is good

Carol Bartram goes over her assignment with this freshman English class. Here they are working on writing a good paragraph.

Ted Mackey, the English department head, stares in disbelief at the poor grammar used in the heading of this yearbook page.

English IV concentrates mostly on British literature. Here, Mr. Rolla Beach casually glances over his class during instruction. As with many senior classes, the more relaxed banter between students and teachers is encouraged. "Good morning, scholars !"

Carol Bartram greets the students with a broad smile as class begins.

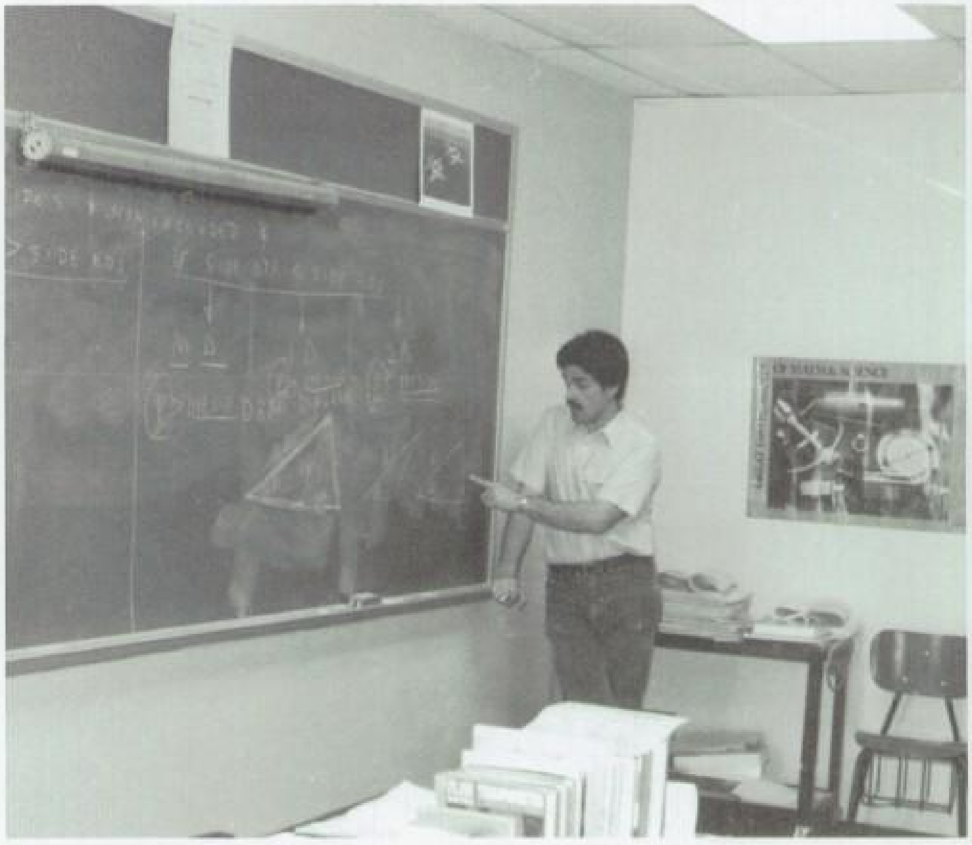
Our school has a number of different English programs available to students. These range from the general English to English IV. The four college preparatory English classes start with English I. It is an introduction to literature and emphasizes good paragraph writing. English II progresses to paper writing. It works on transitions and development. English III is a stronger study in American literature. It also includes writing, by having a number of typed essays required. And finally, English IV works primarily on literature. Students study and learn about world literature in this course. There are fifteen English teachers employed for the 1985-86 school year. These teachers keep the approximately 2000 students educated in all aspects of the English language. Most students take some English each of their four years while here at the high school. This is the program of study which prepares students for college. At the conclusiion of such efforts, students have a prodigous vocabulary.

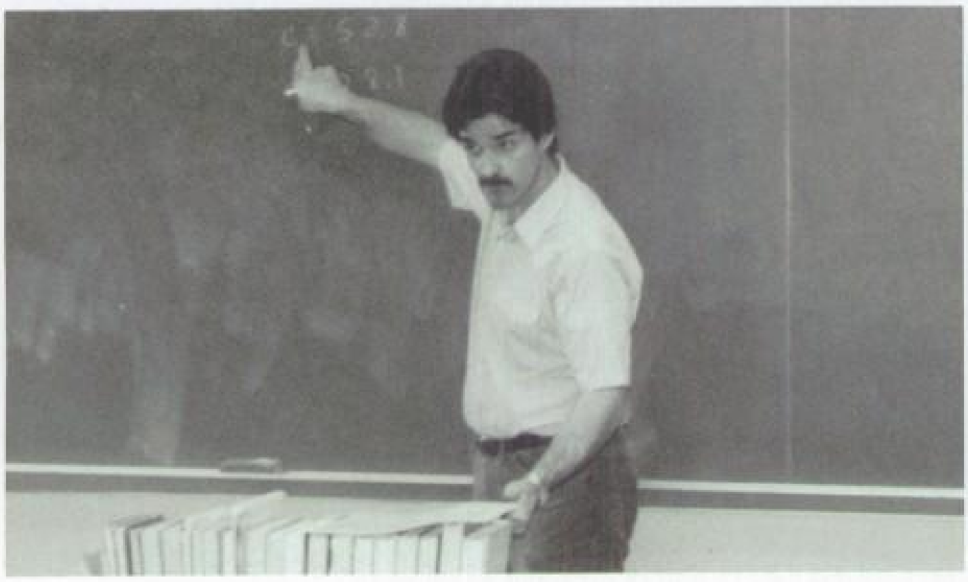
Trigonometry is one of the most challenging math classes offered.



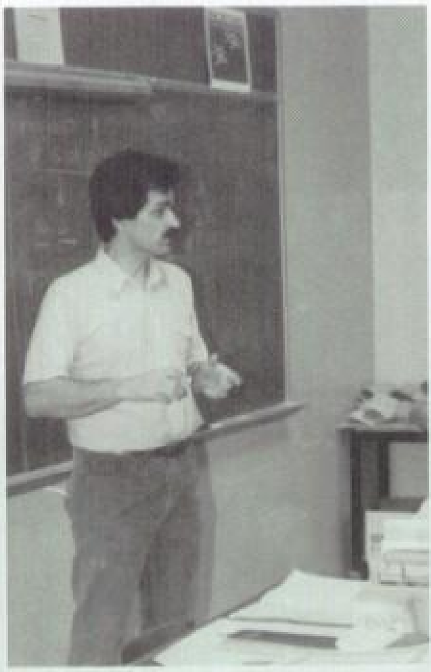
Clear as Mud

So, you want to enter the world of advanced math? You stroll down to the math area and knock on the door. "Turn the handle," is shouted by the man in the front of the room. Complex problems appear on the board behind him. As he would describe it, some of the math is, "as clear as mud." There is going to be a quiz the next day and the class is warned to get their ducks in a row. Jerry Knuckles brings academics together with an atmosphere that is challenging. He finishes the instruction that day with a story about cavemen. Cavemen, ducks, and challenges are parts of our math classes.

That finger doesn't mean look at the ceiling. One more hard problem...



Students MIGHT see this problem on the quiz tomorrow!!!!



"If you don't know it, I'm gonna grill you," is his warning.

If you heed his warning, you will do well. He tries to ensure that students do meet all these objectives.

A Familiar Face in a New Place

Mr. Hendricks helps junior Bob Bennett with his U.S. History homework.

Many students recognized Mr. Randy Hendricks as a substitute teacher from years past, but that changed. Mr. Hendricks started the 1985-86 school year with his own classes, a new addition to the Grove City High School teaching staff.

Mr. Hendricks began his teaching studies at OSU where he majored in social studies and secondary education. He had substituted for two and a half years in all South-Western City middle and high schools. In 1985-86 he taught Introduction to Social Studies (ISS) and U.S. History. When asked if he enjoyed teaching his own classes instead of someone else's, he said, ''Absolutely! There's no comparison.'' Mr. Hendricks was terribly bothered by working in the same building as his wife, Mrs. Jeri Hendricks, ''She's hard to live up to!''

Out of school, Mr. Hendricks enjoys traveling around the United States and surrounding countries and tinkering with wood.

Mr. Hendricks is concerned with the future and welfare of young people. By teaching, he stays young, sees trends and directions of the young, and sees things in a different perspective. ''After all,'' says Mr. Hendricks, ''the future lies in the hands of the young.''

Junior Shawn Cool and Mr. Hendricks look puzzled for an answer.

Teacher Enhances Drawing Classes

Kansas City Art Inst

A drawing in art class catches the eye of senior Mike Bartosevich, junior Annie Bunting, and Mr. Chapman.

The many talents of several students blessed our school with beauty. Various art classes displayed their products in the showcase in front of Mr. Chapman's classroom. Behind these various talents, however, there were the instructors who brought out the skills. One of our notable art teachers in 1985-1986 was Mr. Kevin Chapman.

Mr. Chapman, a graduate of OSU in Art Education, enjoyed his fifth year at Grove City High School. He taught 6 drawing classes, ranging from Drawing I all the way to Drawing VIII (advanced). By year's end Mr. Chapman planned to continue his teaching career at Grove City as a most valued art teacher.

PORTFOLIO DAY

Mr. Chapman checks his grade book to keep up on the progress of his students.

Caught in a moment of thought, Mr. Chapman shows one of his more serious expressions.

Art Students Win Awards

Students in Mr. Chapman's class critique a drawing as part of their education in visual arts.

Various art programs existed in our school during the 85-86 year. These art classes included drawing, photography, ceramics, and jewerly. The efforts of these students entail much more than most people would imagine. Serious students even go to higher education in art such as C.C.A.D. and pursue careers in the art field. The diligent efforts of three students have paid off. Three students in visual arts programs were winners at the local arts festival, Arts in the Alley. These three winners each received a cash prize as well as their ribbons. Art students' works are entered into contests all year. Congratulations to all of our winners.

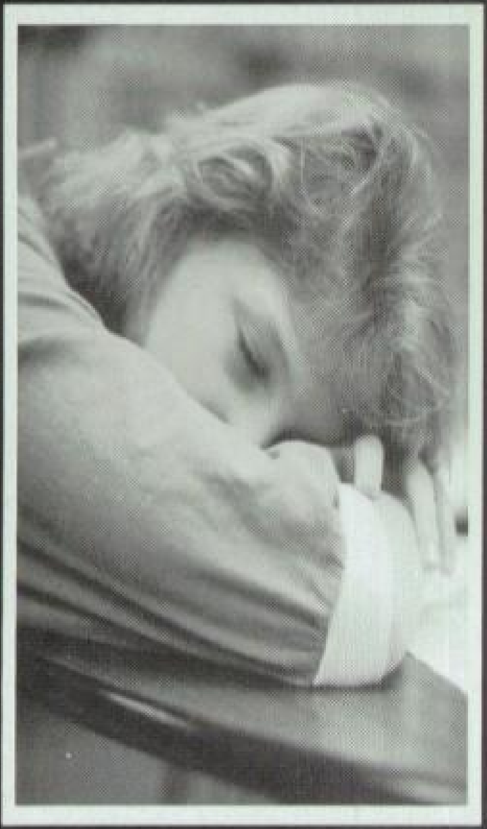
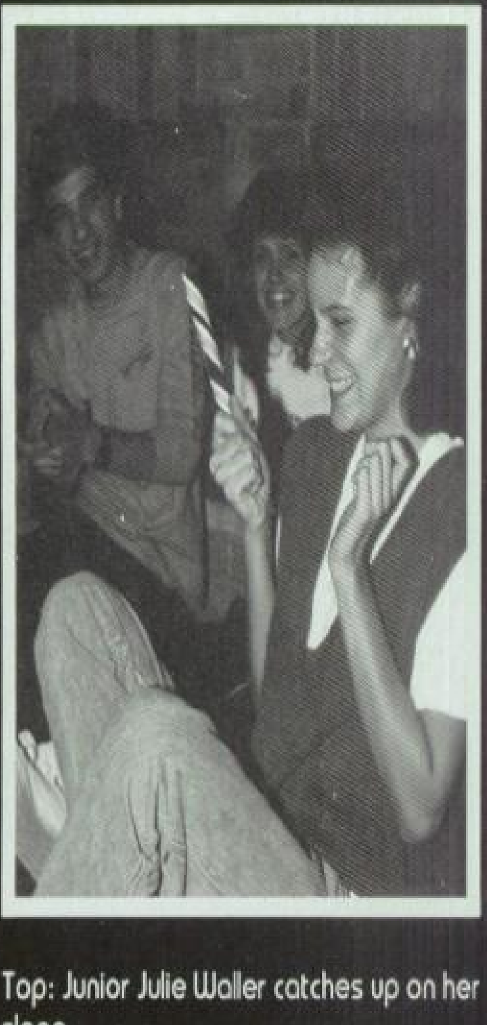
First place winner in the photo contest was Karla Chew. She was in Photo III during the contest.





Top: Junior Julie Waller catches up on her sleep.

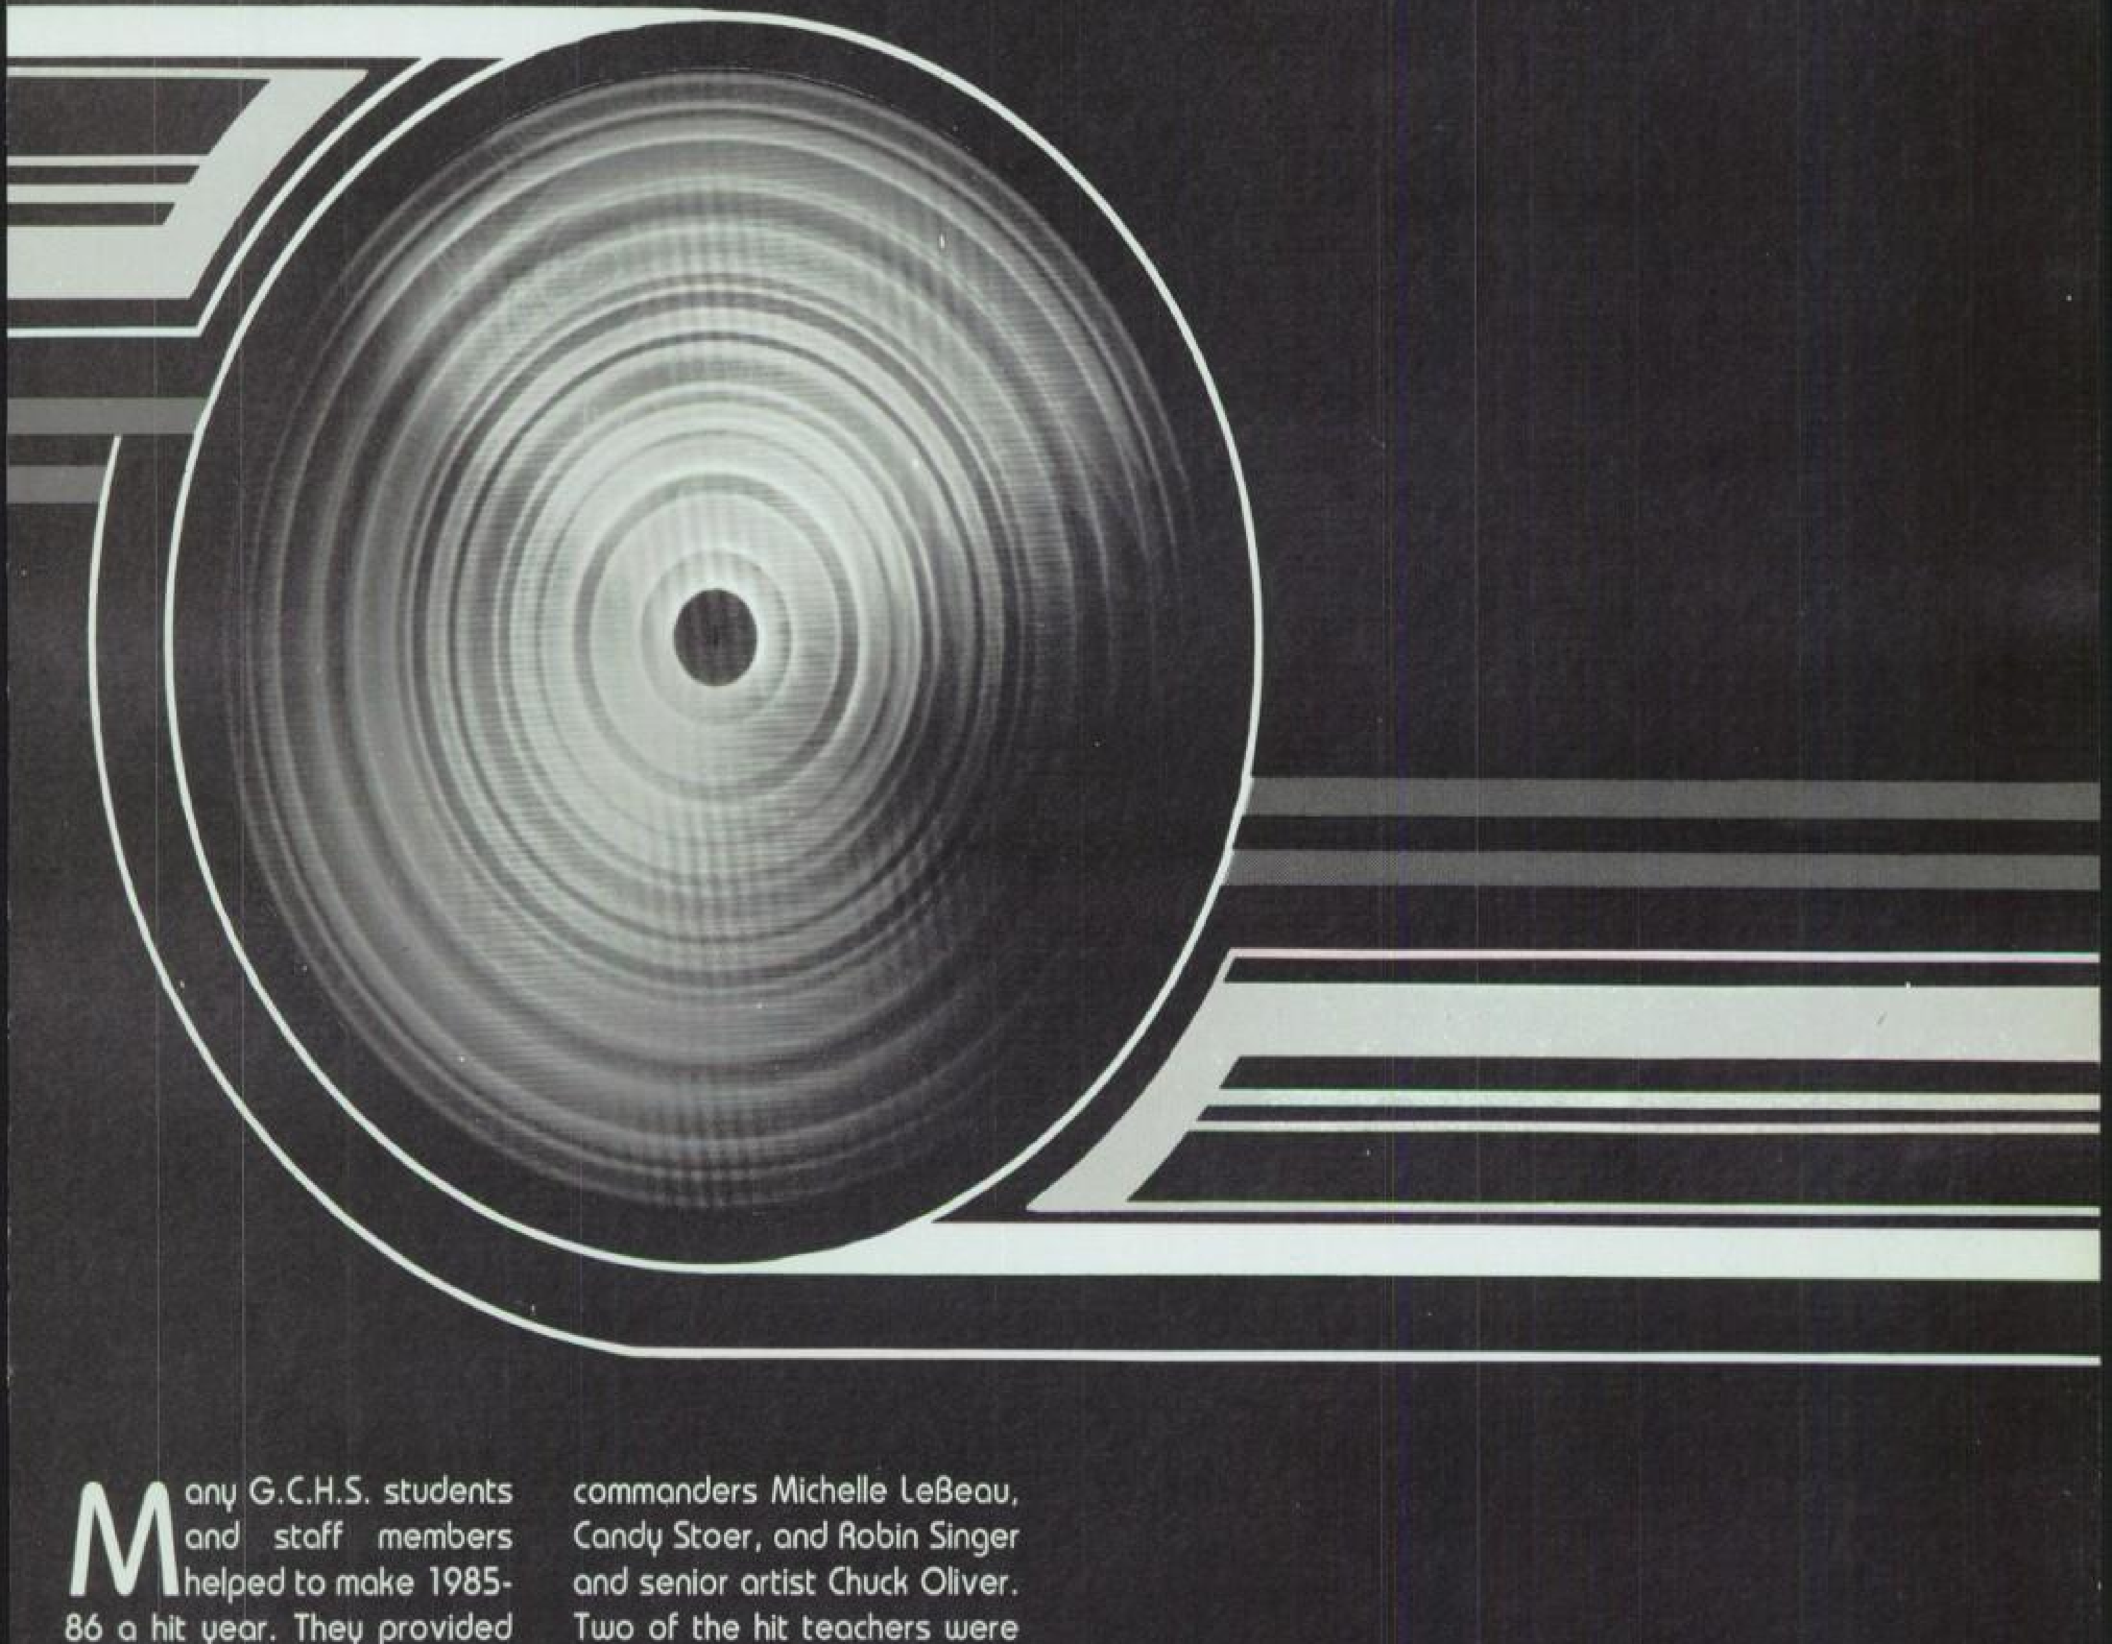
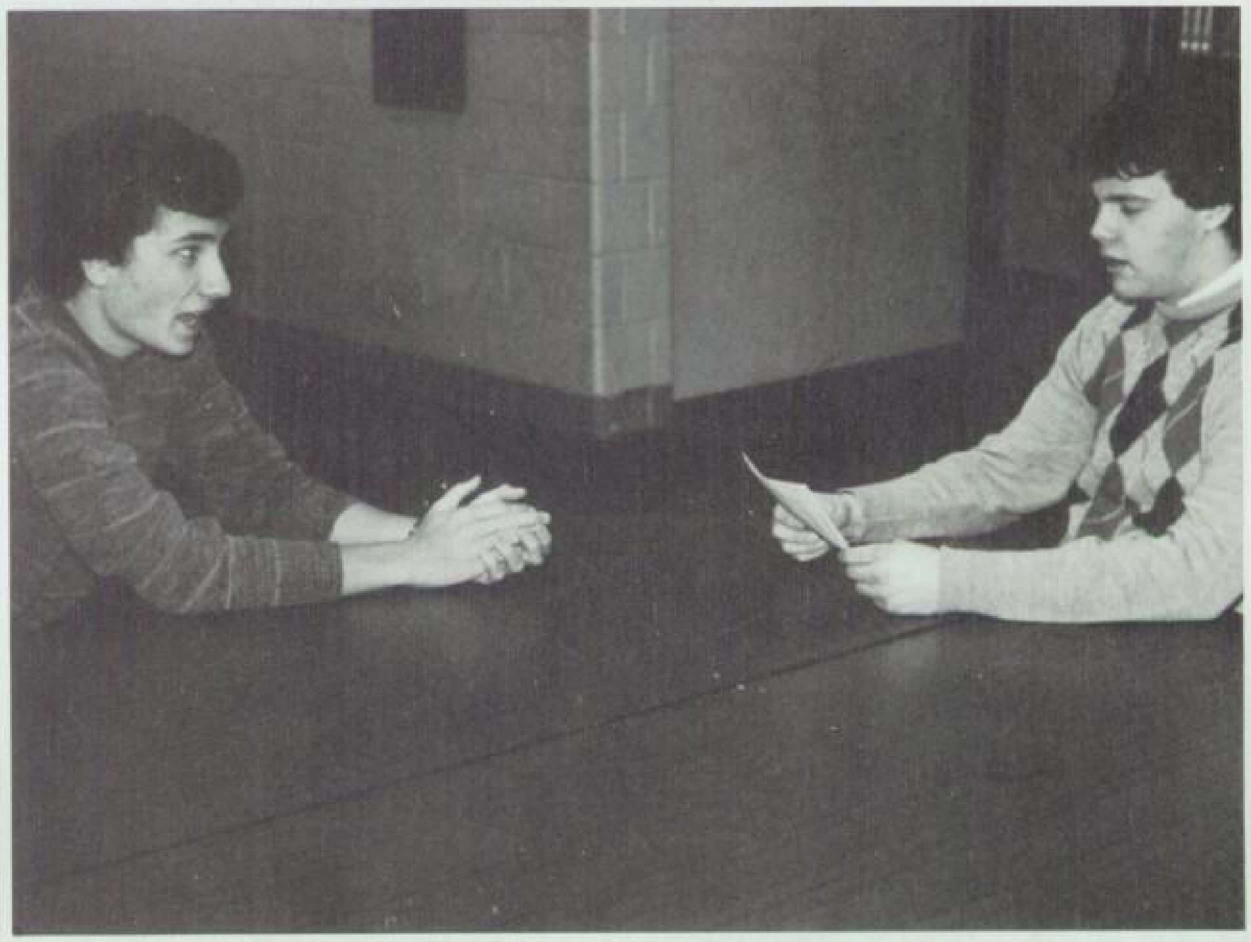
Pick Hits of People



Many G.C.H.S. students and staff members helped to make 1985-86 a hit year. They provided the needed support and enthusiasm to make it through the school year in style. Just a few of these special people were freshman tennis champion Ann Grossman, sophomore skier Skeeter Hayes, junior field commanders Michelle LeBeau, Candy Stoer, and Robin Singer and senior artist Chuck Oliver. Two of the hit teachers were Mr. Chapman and Mr. Hendricks.

The people of Grove City High School made the 1985-86 school year a tremendous hit for everyone.

Finally On Top



The Senior class officers take time out from their busy day to pose in the pit.

Tracy Weier and Jim Bartram work hard to keep the senior class running smoothly

The Senior Class of 1985-86 had an impressive list of hard-working officers, led by President Jim Bartram. The other officers were Vice-President Tracy Weier, Treasurer Gretchen Shepherd, Secretary Lori Patzer, Historian Kelly Wilson, and Parliamentarian Stacey Holland.

Thanks to the hard work of the class as underclassmen, they were always in great financial shape. They certainly took advantage of it by relaxing as Seniors! The only fund-raiser needed was a dance held after a home football game.

Whether organizing a class party or decorating the balcony for Spirit Week, the Senior class officers put in plenty of long, hard hours, making it an exciting, fun-filled year.

Double Trouble

Tommy and Tammy Noble, Janelle and Dick Ozmun, and Robby and Wendi Franciscus all resemble their twin more than they will admit.

Many people who go to Grove City High School have an older or younger brother or sister who has gone here, too. Teachers often ask, "Are you someone's younger brother?" or, "Are you so-and-so's older sister?" But can you imagine having a brother or sister the same age as you?

Three sets of twins were part of the class of 1986. Although none of them were identical, they each resembled their twin a lot. Dick and Janelle Ozmun, Tammy and Tommy Noble, and Wendi and Robby Franciscus were well known by most of the senior class. They are considered to be the same age, but Janelle has always insisted that she is older than Dick, "by at least four minutes!" Not only were the twins double the trouble, they were also double the fun!

More Than Just Transportation

By their senior year, most students had their own car, or at least the use of the family car. If these cars could talk, what would they tell us? They would talk about carloads of friends piled in on the way to a game, or dates at the drive in.

Many seniors became familiar sights driving around in their cars. Whenever we saw a green VW, we knew it was Gretchen Shepherd behind the wheel. Alan Sturm and Tonya Turner even turned up with matching orange Mustangs!

Deputy Sloan's car is one that all students at Grove City are familiar with.

National Merit Finalist

Coming to Grove City in the middle of his sophomore year, Steve Haptonstahl adjusted to life at Grove City High School very quickly. He joined Olympics of the Mind, and his group won the second place award for building a robot. His senior year, he was an In The Know varsity team member.

Steve was a ''fellow'' on the Columbus Council on World Affairs. As a member of the council, he helped plan activities that would appeal to teenagers. He also attended a weekend retreat sponsored by the council called Opportunities for Building World Peace. The retreat was designed to give teens a chance to seriously discuss world issues.

During his junior year, Steve was a Boys State Alternate, and he attended Camp Enterprise at Capital University.

As a senior, Steve was chosen as a National Merit Scholarship Finalist, one of the top scholastic honors in the country. He also displayed talent in computer programming, and he wrote several of his own programs.

Steve is busy doing what got him where he is today-studying.

Beginning typing and word processing were not anyone's favorite classes, but there is one thing everyone loved about them - the teacher. Mrs. Alma Bennett's soft-spoken, but friendly personality made her well liked and respected by the entire student body.

She attended Eastern Kentucky University, where she majored in business education.

After teaching in various schools in Kentucky, New Mexico, and elsewhere in Ohio, she settled at Grove City in 1970.

Although Mrs. Bennett has enjoyed work, she has always found time to relax. She has enjoyed playing bridge and bowling. Three important parts of her life have been her children - Jeff, Danita, and Dee. All three have followed in her footsteps and become teachers. Mrs. Bennett said it's because, "they see how much fun I have."

Mrs. Bennett's honest interest in her students has made her popular in the classroom.

Artistically Speaking

There are many choices of what to do after graduation from high school - college, technical school, jobs. But one group of seniors had their future in plain sight. They were art majors. Although their interests ranged from pottery and ceramics to drawing and painting, they had one thing in common - talent.

Beth Darnell, Derrick Hickman, Bil Shea, Steve Peck, Dan Wodarcyk, Chuck Oliver, Mike Bartosevich, Rex Crossley, Bryan Erdy, Larry Niehaus and Chuck Waldo made up the largest class of art majors ever at Grove City. Each had different plans for the future, including fashion and industrial illustrators, computergraphics, commercial art, and ceramics and pottery. All planned to continue onto college as art majors.

Mr. Chapman, the drawing teacher at Grove City, helps Mike Bartosevich on a drawing.

Derrick Hickman finds certain advantages to being an artist, like the attention his art gets!

These art majors are certainly a unique group of students!

Senioritis

Whenever a senior would bomb a test, not do his or her homework, or turn in a term paper late, the teacher would usually smile and say, ''Senioritis.'' But what was Senioritis? Any senior could have told you it's just the desire to have some fun before growing up! It struck after the first semester, and was the main cause of food fights, spitwads, and general insanity in school. Senioritis was the one thing that could get a senior to act like a freshman!

While on a trip to Germany, these seniors all admit they acted a little crazy.

Grace Grcic and John Plotner found the perfect person to spend their senior year with.

This class doesn't seem to grab the attention of the students!

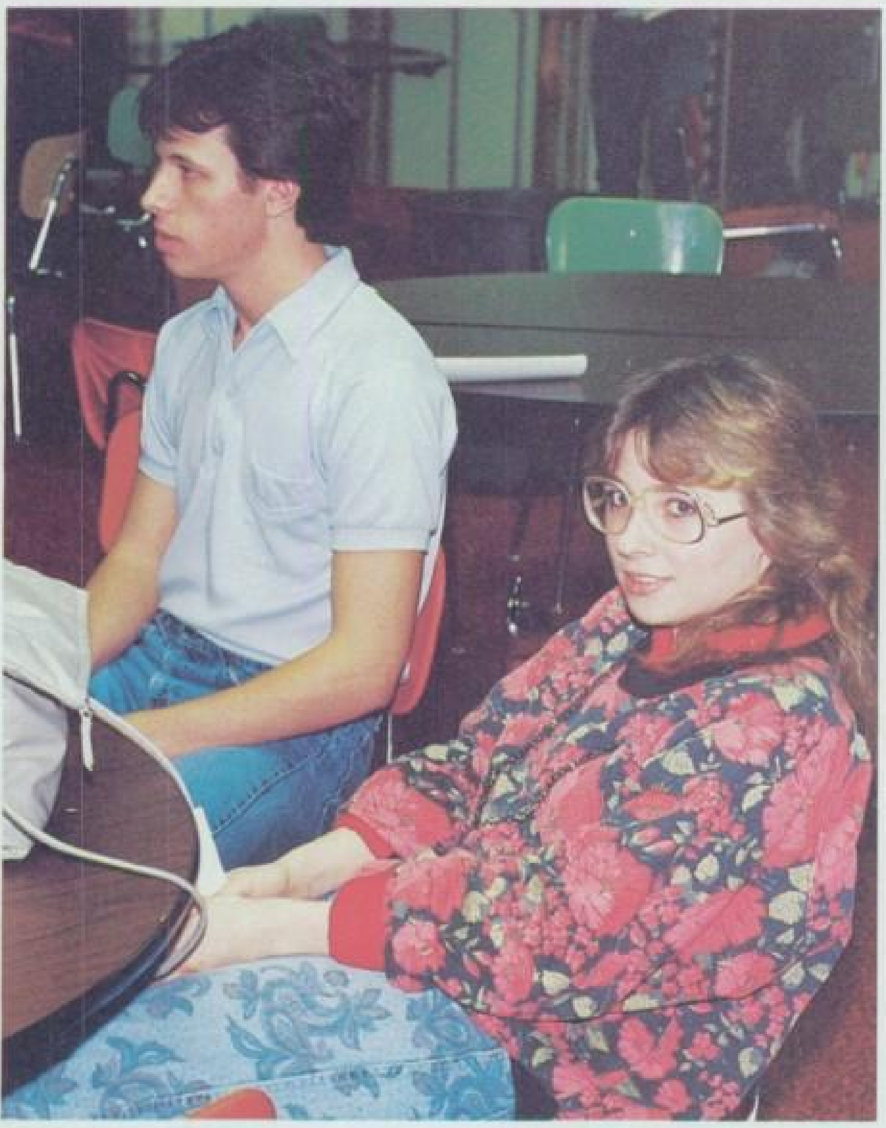
Here's a rare sight-seniors eating cafeteria food, and smiling!

Study Hall ?

Almost all seniors had at least one study hall on their schedule, and some even had three or four. But what did seniors use their study halls for? The most common thing was talking to friends. Girls put on make-up and brushed their hair; guys talked about sports and went to the weight room. A favorite activity that was quickly forbidden by the administration was Euchre tournaments. Some people made plans for the weekend, and some people just slept. One thing's for sure-not much studying was done in study hall!

Jami Jackson, James Mowry and Tom Carpenter ham it up-or is this normal?

Jennifer Snyder and Lisa Lucas should be studying, but that's never stopped them before!



One favorite study hall activity is trying to think of something to do. Karrie List and Mike Herron don't look too successful!

Even though chess was outruled, John Wedge and Jerry Petrosky manage to sneak in a quick game.

Almost There

A change of officers offered new and exciting activities for the 1985-86 year for the junior. Like the Junior Class party, which is a first, many more dances sponsored by the juniors, an early candy sale, and many other things to help provide a more promising and elegant prom.

New officers were Scott Meyers as president; Mike Evans as parliamentarian; and Amy Adams as Historian.

Changes of offices were Lora Birkfeld, from treasurer to vice president; Tracy Harbage, from historian to secretary; and Stephanie Phillips, from secretary to treasurer.

The Junior Class officers worked hard all year to make the year one of the best years for the class of "87" and to prepare them for their best year at Grove City.

Junior class officers are Scott Meyers, Amy Adams, Mike Evans, Tracy Harbage, Stephanie Phillips, and Lora Birkfeld.

Juniors Command the Field

Robin Singer, Candy Stoer, and Michelle Lebeau were an all-junior field commanding team for the 1985 marching band season. From the season they received first place awards at the Lancaster, Pickerington, and Westerville South band contests. At the state band contest at Cooper Stadium they received a superior rating.

The key to this success is teamwork. From the day they were announced as the new field commanders, they practiced and trained together. During the summer all three of them went to the popular George Parks Drum Major Academy at the Ohio Wesleyan University. Some of the skills they learned were leadership, discipline, standard directing style, and a uniform style of directing.

In order to gain the high honor of being a field commander, these girls had to try out in the spring of 85. As a part of the tryouts, they had to learn the whistle commands, make up a routine to a song selected by Mr. Jim Swearingen, and make up a salute for the judges.

Although there was much hard work involved, Robin, Candy, and Michelle, felt that the applause of the audience made it all worth while.

Candy Stoer, Michelle Lebeau, and Robin Singer salute the judges to begin the contest.

Michelle concentrates hard as she keeps the band in time.

Kavicky is Tricky

During Paul Kavicky's junior year he was interested in all aspects of the theater. He enjoyed watching and performing in live productions and working with comedy. But what Paul loved to do the most was magic.

Paul had been working as a professional magician for four years. He had four sessions in New York at the Louis Tannen Camp for magic and has helped instruct at this camp.

Several top name performers,such as Johnny Ace Palmer,David Cronewett,and Joe Marina, were impressed so much with his work that they have called him "a great magician","an excellent performer",and said he had "a great talent".

Paul had performed in variety shows, art festivals and other small events, but his plans were to move to bigger things. In his own words he said "I don't do anything that spectacular right now but just as soon as you forget my name I will do something great. Anyone around me may be seeing some spiffy magic real soon." So watch out for Paul.

These kids intently watch as Paul performs one of his tricks.

Paul impresses these ladies with his magical abilities.

The German Exchange

The German students pose with Sherriff Earl Smith at the new prison facility in Columbus

Many juniors looked forward to the German exchange program that Grove City High School has. In this program Grove City invited students from Heidenheim, West Germany to visit for a month in the spring. During the summer Grove City students visited Heidenheim for a month.

Before the German students came to Grove City they were assigned to a student to live with. While they were in Grove City they visited the Coca-Cola Company, the Channel 4 television station, Kings Island, a Clippers baseball game and many other places in Ohio.

When the Grove City students visited Heidenheim they visited Munich, East Berlin and many other cities in Germany. The purpose of this program is to show the students of each country what each others lifestyles are like.

Juniors Georgette Khoury, Dawn Morbitzer, Melissa Gilbert, and Laurie Langhans, stand in line with their German Students waiting to get in the Columbus Zoo.

Rice Speeds Away

Dave Rice spends much of his spare time skating. He started skating at the age of twelve and has won many awards. He skates for the Mid-Ohio Speed Club and has competed in the National Amateur Roller Skating Association. In 1983 he won a silver medal and in 1984 he won a gold medal at the N.A.R.S.A. Dave has competed all over the nation and has found it worth while. Dave also rode his bike fifteen to thirty miles a day and played football. Of all of the sports he participated in, he found roller skating as his favorite.

David Rice proudly displays his trophies as he prepares to go and add to his collection.

Juniors In Action ...

Juniors were always ready to show their stuff. Whether it was in academics, sports, school activities, or just clowning around, they were constantly on the move. With new opportunities that arose, it was hard not to be involved in something. As their junior year came to an end, they began to plan for their senior year: getting senior pictures, planning for graduation, and picking a college. With all the activities that they planned, they expected an exciting senior year.

Quite A Ways To Go

During the 1985-86 school year the sophomore class officers contributed greatly to their class and to the rest of the school. They had planned activities in order to raise money for upcoming events.

Eric Meyers presided as the class President with Darren Haughn by his side as Vice-President. Scott Wilson kept order as Sergeant At Arms while Jim Bonanno served as Treasure, being in charge of the class money. Mila Patton kept record of all of the important events of the year by being Historian. Stephanie Capocciama finished the team as the Sophomore class Secretary.

Lickity Split 'N' Skied A Bit

Sophomore Skeeter Hayes has been perfecting his great skiing abilities since he was six when his father introduced him to the sport. He has a natural talent in the water and loved doing daring stunts. He hoped to compete during the summer of '86 which could lead to a bright future in water skiing.

Skeeter Hayes at the age of six is just starting his skiing career.

Skeeter, at fifteen, shows the improvement he has made.

Sophomores Get Ringed

Finally the Sophomore Class received their class rings. This is a significant time for sophomores; finally they will no longer be considered the underdog. Choosing class rings was tough, but exciting time for these underclassmen. Not just any ring would do! It had to be a prime example of an individual and the whole group as well. Class rings not only show a bond to their class, but a unity to Grove City High, which was present with the class of '88.

These sophomores waited anxiously for this exciting moment of actually owning their personalized class ring.

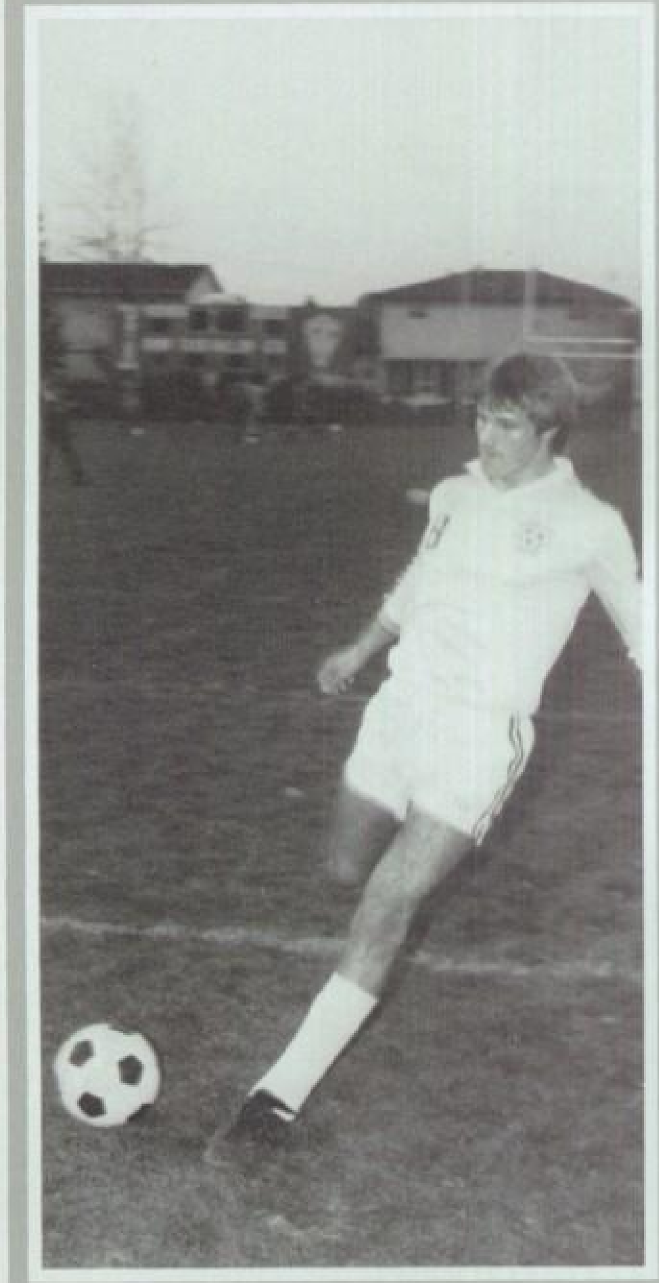
Double Dribble

Twin sophomores Darren and Theron Haughn put in a hard, but rewarding practice.

Darren and Theron Haughn have worked on their soccer skills since they were kids. They have played on many special teams and have won numerous awards for their tremendous efforts. Who would have thought that they would start for the Grove City varsity team when they were only sophomores?

Both contributed greatly to the team. Theron played offense; his position was mid-field forward. He had 17 goals and 8 assists for the 1985 season. Darren played defense primarily and his position was mid-field fullback. He had 10 goals and 9 assists for the season.



Theron Haughn drives the ball to score.

Sophomores. . .

The Sophomore Class had a great deal of togetherness both in and out of school. They were a wild and crazy bunch of teenagers out for a lot of fun, but they also had much pride and dignity in their school work and overall reputation. The one special thing about the sophomores was their ability to find time for one another.

Lisa Price patiently watches while Darren and Theron Haughn attempt to make cookies.

The J.V. cheerleaders get out their formal wear at cheerleading camp.

Kelly Liming shows us her "bright" cheery smile.

Is this sophomore girl really Chrissy Albert?

Behind the Scenes

Skeeter Hayes attempts to master the beast burger.

"Hello world," say two J.V. cheerleaders.

These sophomores get together for an elegant dinner at the Price's home.

The Sophomore Class of 1985-86 had a very special unity that should have been an example for all other classes. Their dedication definitely stood out. They had great spirit and pride that helped their outstanding performances.

Just the Beginning

The Freshmen Class was led in to their first year of high school by their class president, Chance Sweazey. Right by his side was Misty Sanner, vice president, to help him and to substitute for him whenever necessary.

Traci Wells had the difficult job of keeping track of what went on during the Student Council meetings by being secretary. The freshmen put their trust in Chad Brisentine by electing him as the class treasurer. Stacey Vincent had the job of historian, and the job as parliamentarian was handed over to Kelli Davidson.

A Real Ace

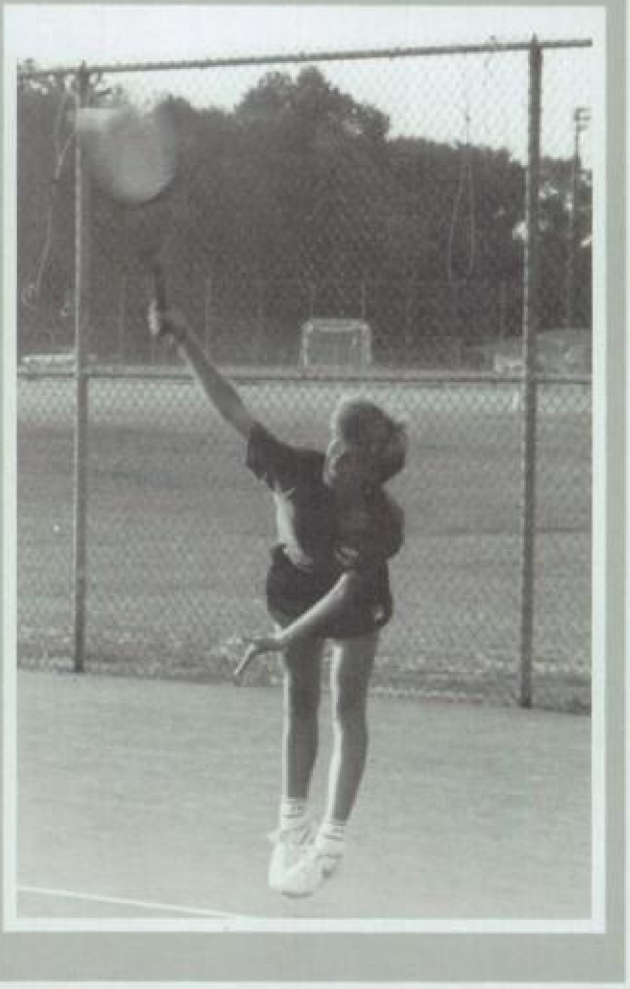
Freshman Ann Grossman brought recognition to both Grove City High School and herself for her abilities as a tennis player.

Ann has been playing tennis since the age of four and has compeated in national tennis matches since the age of nine.

At the beginning of her tennis career she received tennis lessons all year around at Tennis East now known as Scarburro. Beginning with her sixth grade year Ann would leave her home school the second semester to travel to the Nick Bollettiere Tennis Academy in Florida, and has been going the second semester of every year ever since.

Her long hours of hard work payed off for an undefeated season and her easy victory at the state tournament, which was a first for Grove City High School. For this dedication the school honored her by making October 25 Ann Grossman day.

As Ann eyes the ball she prepares to hit it over the net.



The strength that Ann uses to play tennis is shown in one of her practice serves.

Frosh on the Ball

To begin athletics as a freshman is a good idea to help train for J.V. and varsity. 1986 formed two new freshmen teams; girls' freshmen basketball and girls' freshmen volleyball. The coaches felt this was a great way to help improve the junior varsity and varsity teams. Despite the poor records of both teams the girls were confident about the rest of their high school athletic careers.

This freshmen girl sets herself up to bump the ball over the net to her opponents.

These Freshmen Lady Hounds fight to keep the ball from the Marion girls.

These girls take time out from the game to get a good laugh in.

Cliques Don't Always Click

Punkers, nerds, jocks, and preppies. They all had their own cliques and did their own things, but did they always click?

Cliques were formed by people who had the same interests. Although they sometimes separated people for the wrong reasons.

The good side of cliques was that the people you hung around with enjoyed doing the same things you did.

Whether we like it or not there will always be cliques and at least one that we belong to.

Starting Off . . .

Freshmen seem to have a problem every year fitting into the school. But the class of ''89'' was an exception. With the leadership of counselor, Mrs. Roberta Adams, and their class officers, they started off right. Their academics and sports abilities shone above many of the former freshmen classes at Grove City. Their outgoing personalities made it easy for the upperclassmen to accept them. The freshmen looked forward to many challenges and accomplishments in their next three years.

Secretaries Hard At Work

Nancy Grewell merrily types on her new computer.

The secretaries at G.C.H.S. did more than type and answer phones all day. They had many responsibilities such as attending toill students, making sure the bell system worked, and many times,making sure the principals did not forget their appointments. Their job consisted of much self discipline in order to put up with all the chaos of a normal school day. Much appreciation and thanks are awarded to these ladies!

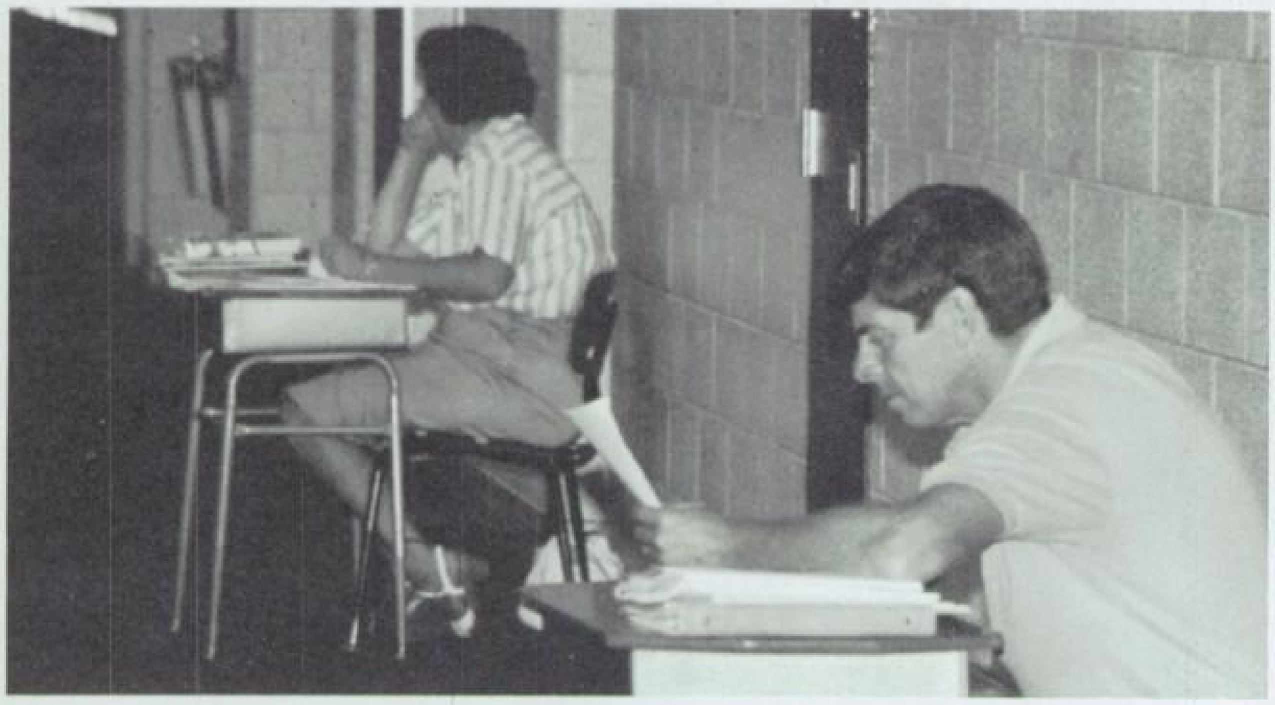
Staff Show Versatility

Mrs. Sandy Price and Mr. Terry Mills adapted well to the degrading job of "potty patrol".



The staff at Grove City High School made various contributions to the student body not only by teaching in the classroom. Many of the teachers would stay late to tutor a student in a certain subject. The teachers and staff would help students if there was a problem with family or friends. The staff at G.C.H.S. also was very high spirited like the students. They attended and supported many extracurricular activities.

The staff was very versatile. They could go from the uniform job of a teaching position to the everyday friendship which inspired the learning process in the students greatly. Much thanks and respect is due to all who helped the students.

Mrs. Roberta Adams spent many long hours preparing the Freshman Class for scheduling.

Many teachers from G.C.H.S. attended football games cheering the team on to victory.

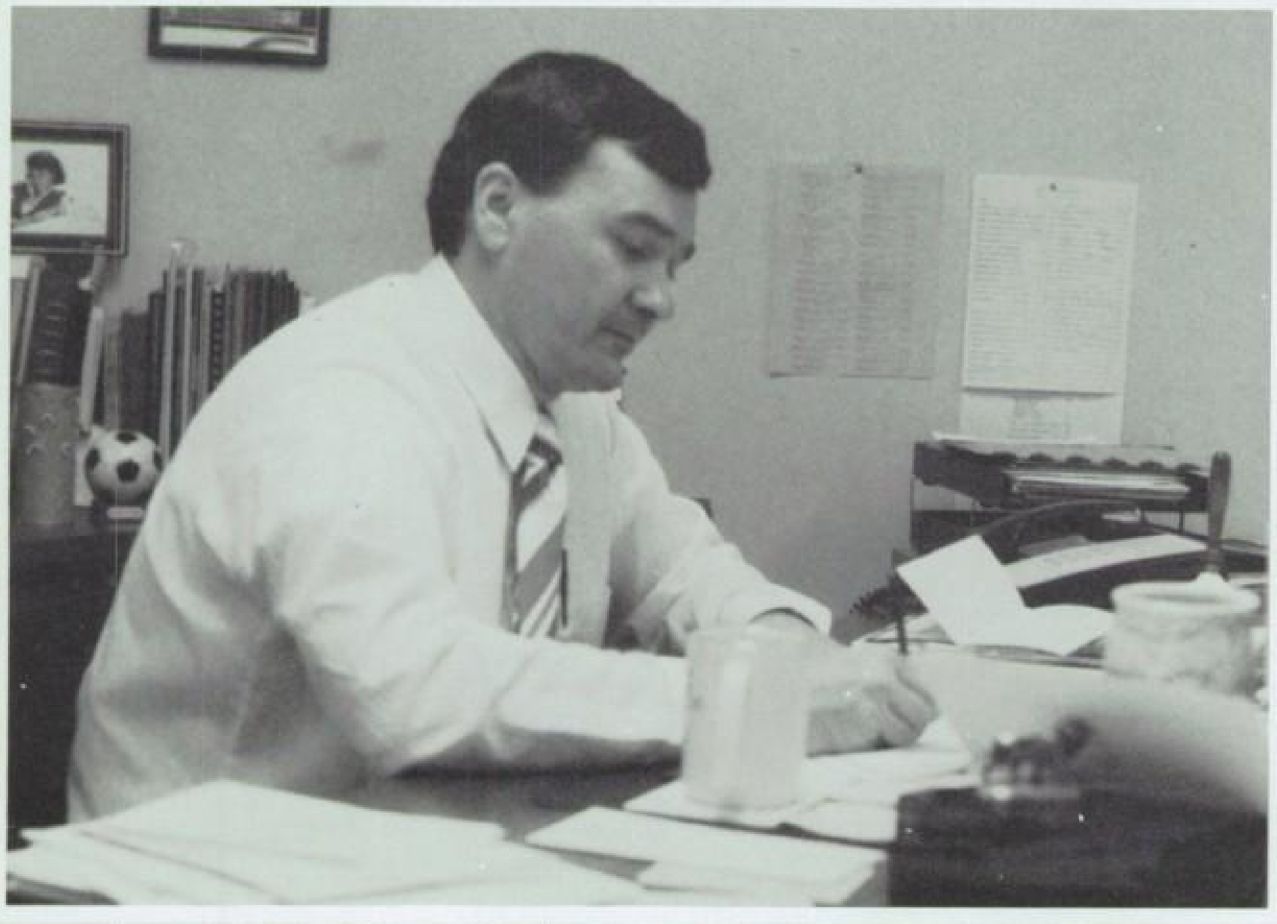
Rutan Roots For GCHS



Grove City High School was introduced to a new principal during the 1983-84 school year: Mr. Thomas Rutan. With this new leader came many new rules and procedures, making adjustment difficult for some students.

The many changes proved to be positive for the school, as attendance increased, school appearance improved, and enthusiasm soared.

Mr. Rutan may have come from a different school, but his new ideas and his strong Greyhound spirit has helped Grove City tremendously.

Mr. Rutan puts in another long, eventful day as principal at GCHS.

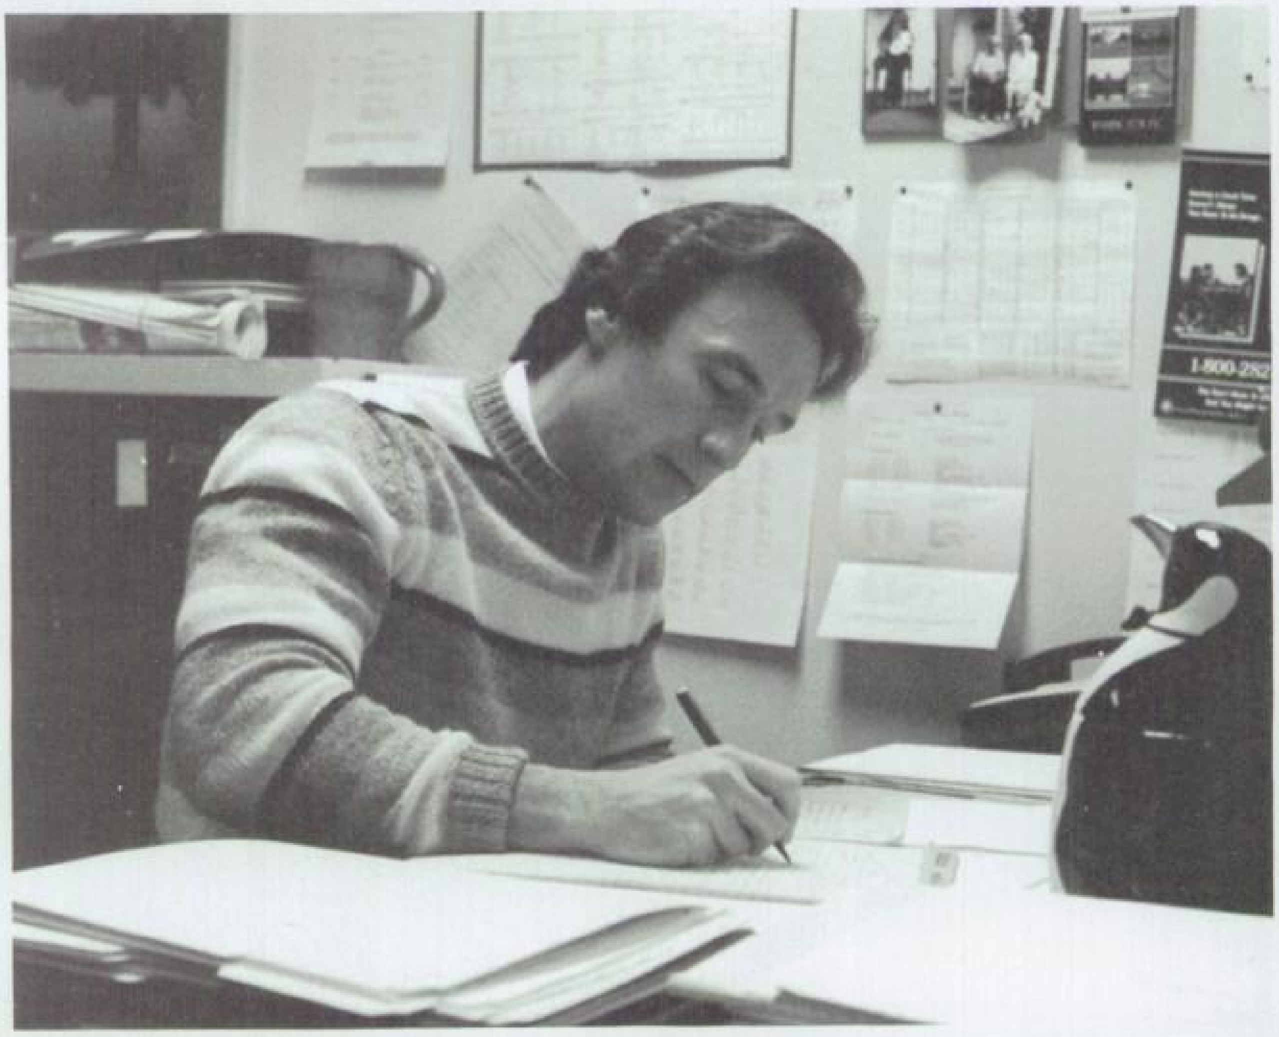
Busily Working Away

Although Mr. Heuer might have been one of the newest editions to the staff of G.C.H.S. he definitely was not inexperienced. He contributed greatly to our school and student body. He was always attending extracurricular activities, ready to cheer the Greyhounds on to a victory. He also helped students with academic problems such as tutoring in many math courses. He also helped many kids with personal problems. He gained much respect and honor from the students and staff at G.C.H.S.

Mr. Heuer always had a smile and sometimes even a chocolate chip cookie for everyone. People could not help but like to spend time with him.



Mr. Heuer busily working away in his office is only a small part of his job.

Those Who Serve

Pick Hits of Groups

Many of the traditional groups of G.C.H.S. came back for another year of being a hit. One such group was band. The marching Hounds proved they were on top to stay. Some groups were classes instead of extracircicular activities such as the Crimson and Blue Staff.

Some new groups also made their way into the hits of 85-86. One group which stood out was S.A.D.D. which met to show support against drinking and driving. The groups of Grove City High School helped to make the 1985-86 school year a big hit for everyone involved.

Hounds: They're Better Than Ever

Grove City High School's marching band once again made us all proud to be Grove City Greyhounds. The marching band kept their tradition of being the best in 1985-1986. The members of the outstanding band worked endless hours to perfect their performances and their strong efforts paid off. The Marching Hounds became Grand Champions at the Lancaster "Band of Gold" contest, Pickerington Band contest, Westerville South contest, and Miami Trace High School contest. They also received a Superior rating at the state contest November 2, 1985. Because of all the hard work Mr. Swearingen and all the band members have put into their performances, the marching band was the best ever.

Winter Bands Busy At Work

After marching season was over the marching band broke up into the Symphonic, Concert I and Concert II bands. Throughout concert season the bands performed many concerts and went to many contests. The bands practiced during fourth through seventh periods every day and due to those many hours of work the bands were very successful. The bands have been a great success and hope to continue their success through the years to come.

Junior Shawn Cool, sophomore Corry Stotts and freshman Wendy Brown concentrate on playing to the best of their ability.

Pleasant melodies are heard from the flute section of the Concert Band during a practice session.

Jammin' Jazz Band

Grove City's Jazz Band played great in every performance in 1985-86. Their unique talents proved to be a great success and their efforts in practice made the season a great one. At each performance, They proved to the audience that their many hours of practice produced wonderful musical talents. The band hopes to continue their great success in the future.

Orchestra Plays Great!

Orchestra put in many hard and time consuming hours of work to make the season a success. They were involved in many concerts and contests and received straight superior ratings for their performances at the State Contest. They have improved much during the year and hope to continue with much success.

The members of the Orchestra stand proud for the applause of the audience at the winter concert.

Concentration and practice is essential for an outstanding performance by the Grove City High School Orchestra.

Individual dedication and hard practice is necessary to produce a quality sound from the entire orchestra.

Mr. Werner introduces the 1985-86 Orchestra to the audience as they stand to receive the praise for an outstanding performance.

Concentration is shown on the faces of all of the performers at the winter concert.

Mr. Werner takes a bow for an excellent concert performed by the members of the Orchestra.

Music Is Love In Search Of A Word

Symphonic choir consisting of about 70 sophomores, juniors and seniors, and concert choir consisting of about 60 freshmen, displayed outstanding vocal talents during the 1985-86 school year. The symphonic choir started a great new year with a fall festival. In December they had a winter concert to which many people attended and enjoyed. The members of both choirs contributed their vocal talents to make both concerts great. The audience greatly appreciated the musical talents of the many young singers.

These choir members sing with much enthusiasm at the winter concert.

Mr. Wilson,the choir director,proudly introduces the choir to the audience after a fine performance.

A Touch of Class

A Touch of Class, Grove City's swing choir, kept themselves busy during the 1985-86 school year. They went to contests and earned good ratings for their efforts. Along with practicing during eighth period every day the choir held fund raisers. Some of them were the candy sale and the Variety Show. The choirs used the money for a trip to King's Island at the end of the year. The choir hopes to continue their success throughout the coming years.

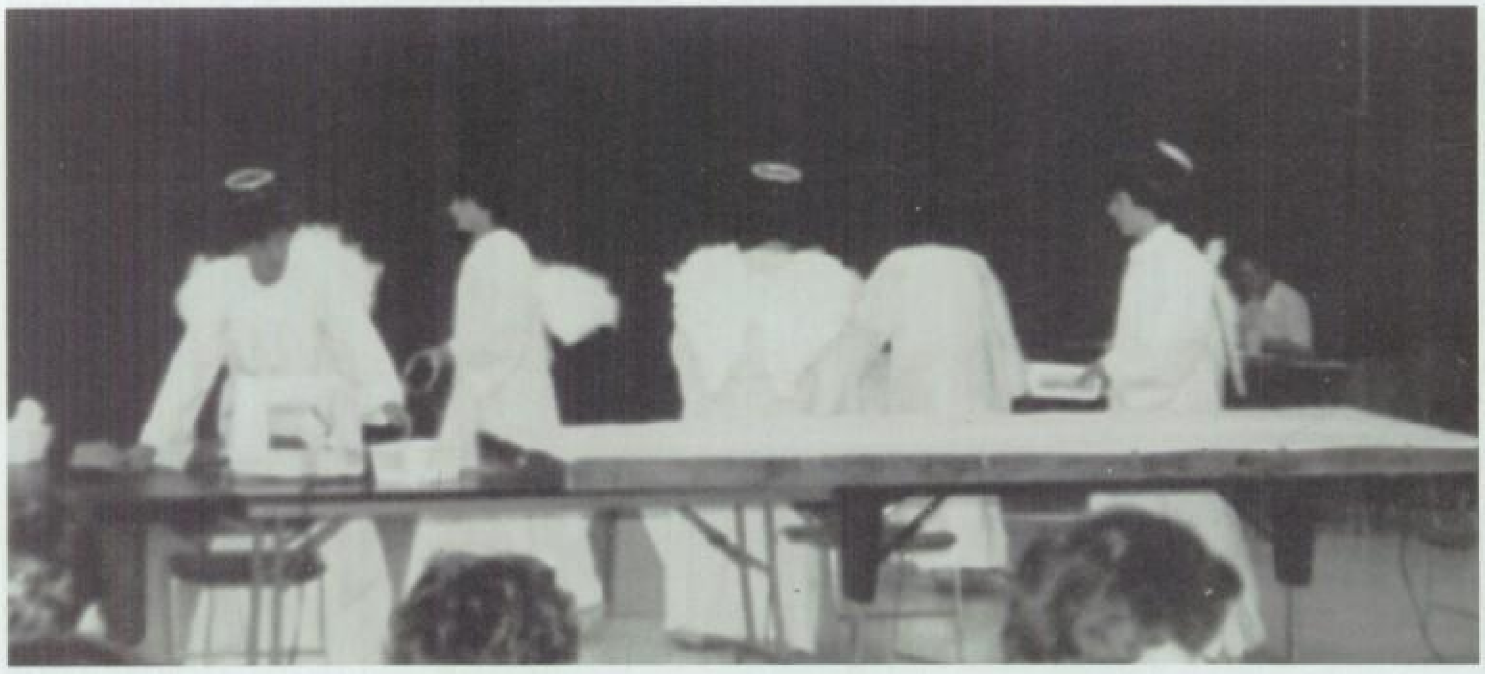
Clever Minds At Work



The members of the Olympics of The Mind team set up the props for part of their competition.

Olympics of The Mind was hard at work from November to April in preparation for their meets. The members of the group were very proud when they competed at the state contest. The three types of problems they engaged in were spontaneous, long-term, and style. The hard work and dedication shown by all members was evident in the outcome of their performance.

During competition David Myers and Todd Gritter concentrate on their given problem.

Tons Of Fun

Young Life was a non-denominational organization to help kids learn more about God. The club met every Monday night at a member's house and had many activities at their weekly meetings. Some of the activities were "Campaigners", a Bible study, "Minutes", playing pranks on people and a special talk. The students at Grove City highly supported the group in 1985-86.

Another Solution To Drug Abuse

Mini Teenage Institute was a weekend camping trip for students who were interested in the prevention of drugs and alchohol among peers, family and friends. The seminar included workshops, special speakers, skits, games and discussions held by the advisors and the students who attended. The students who participated had a special concern for people involved with drug and alchohol abuse and wanted to learn new ways to cope with situations that could arise with friends and family.

S.A.D.D. Saves Lives

The new members of S.A.D.D. meet for a group picture at the beginning of the year.

S.A.D.D., Students Against Drunk Driving, was a new organization at Grove City High School in 1985-86. The group was formed to help inform students about the effects of drinking and driving. The students and their parents signed the "Contracts For Life." These said that if either had been drinking they would seek safe transportation home. Since S.A.D.D. began, students and parents have become more aware of the effects of alcohol.

Tracy Weier, president of S.A.D.D., and Brian Thomas make everyone laugh at the beginning of one of the weekly meetings.

Mr. Hampson, the S.A.D.D. advisor informs the members of some of the events that will be taking place during the year.

Parlez Vous Francais?

French Club is a combination of students who are interested in furthering their understanding of the french language and learning more about the french culture. The students involved in this club engage in many exciting activities such as fund raisers and an international foreign language banquet. These activities provide an enjoyable learning experience for the students involved.

German Club Keeps Busy

During the 1985-86 school year the German Club kept themselves very busy. Along with hosting 26 German exchange students and having two German teachers visit, the German Club held their many annual fund raisers. The money raised was used for trips to King's Island, Hocking Hills, and Washington D.C. The members of German Club had a lot fun throughout the year.

A whirl of activities and meetings started Grove City's Spanish club off to an exciting new year. Mrs. Curtis and Miss Combs, Spanish teachers and club advisors, guided the organization through their 1985-86 season. The group was involved in several fund raisors such as selling candy filled stockings at Christmas, candy filled eggs at Easter and other types of candy throughout the year. At the end of the year, the money they had saved from their fund raisers was used for a dinner at the Mexican restaurant of their choice.

Chess Requires Concentration

All members of the 1985-86 chess club shared a common interest in the skill of playing chess. Although the club consisted of only a few members, they had a good time at each of the meetings. Along with weekly practices, the club had competions with teams from other schools. Each member gave his all to do well during the 1985-86 season.

Advisor Mr. Brock Morgan stands with the members of the chess club for a group picture.

Junior Bill Chatfield concentrates for a long time on his next move to win the chess match.

Drama Club Comes Back To Life

Drama Club at Grove City High School was better than ever. By starting a new drama club in 1985-86, the advisor, Mrs. Price let Grove City High School students express their acting abilities. The students put on a fall play called "Exit the Body" which was a great success. The cast put in many hard hours of work to memorize and perfect their lines. The crew also worked hard to create sets to make the play more realistic. The time and efforts of each member paid off tremendously. The Drama Club hopes to expand in the years to come.

Grove City High School's drama club shares their smiles with the camera.

Anna Weaver, star of the play, presents her acting abilities to the audience as Crane Hammond and was a crowd pleaser.

Paul Kavicky and Tonya Turner show much expression.

Tonya Turner portrays her role of Kate Bixley in "Exit the Body".

In The Know Shows Great Pride

The 1985-86 In the Know team and their advisor, Mr. Powell, smile for the camera.

Grove City's 1985-86 In the Know team started the new season with a fighting effort. Although they were defeated in their first game against Westerville North, the team members worked hard in trying to make the season a good one. They put a lot of time and effort into their performance. Throughout the game, the Hounds consistently showed their determination and each member showed great sportsmanship.

Senior, Steve Haptonstahl, humors the crowd during half-time by balancing a piece of paper on a pencil.

Senior Dawn Tanner is excited to receive her pin and membership card after being inducted.

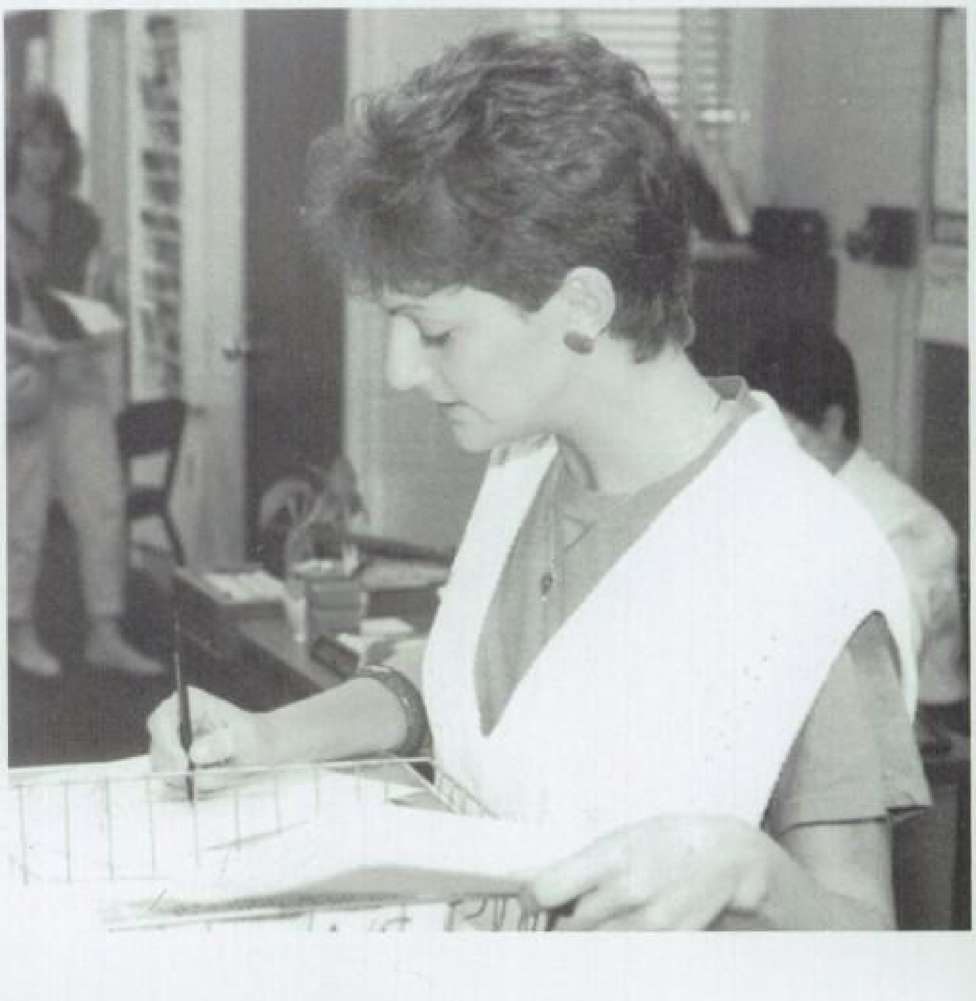
Assistance Throughout The School

Office assistants at Grove City High School were a great help to the secretaries and other people throughout the school. The office assistants were people who scheduled to come to the office during study hall to help with errands, sending passes etc. By helping in the office the girls took a great load off the shoulders of the secretaries and other faculty members.

These office assistants are proud of their achievements in helping the secretaries throughout the year.

Senior Amy Stires-White signs in a student who has come in to school late during the day.

Mrs. Miller receives help from one of the office assistants, Kristi Miller.



Senior Cindy Howard marks the attendance scans from the first period of the day.

Key Club Serves The Community

Key Club, Kiwanis Educated Youth, is a community service organization. The group engaged in many types of charity and community work during the 1985-86 school year some of which were sponsoring the State Convention which was held March 21-23,helping the Kiwanis with their community work and occasionally buying needed items for the school. The club also sponsors the Mini Teenage Institute which is held each year during the spring.

The active members of the Key Club are always ready to do a service for others.

There is never a dull moment in a meeting of the Key Club as seen in this picture.

The members of the Key Club discuss some important activities for the future at a bi-weekly meeting.

Student Council Keeps Busy

Student Council at Grove City was very busy in 1985-86. The Student Council sponsored many activities. One dance that the Student Council sponsored was Cupid's Winter Carnival. In the fall, they held the Homecoming dance and in the spring the annual M.O.R.P. Each month a Student of The Month and a Teacher of The Month were chosen. They also held the semi-annual Bloodmobiles. The Student Council handled their responsibilities well in 1985-86.

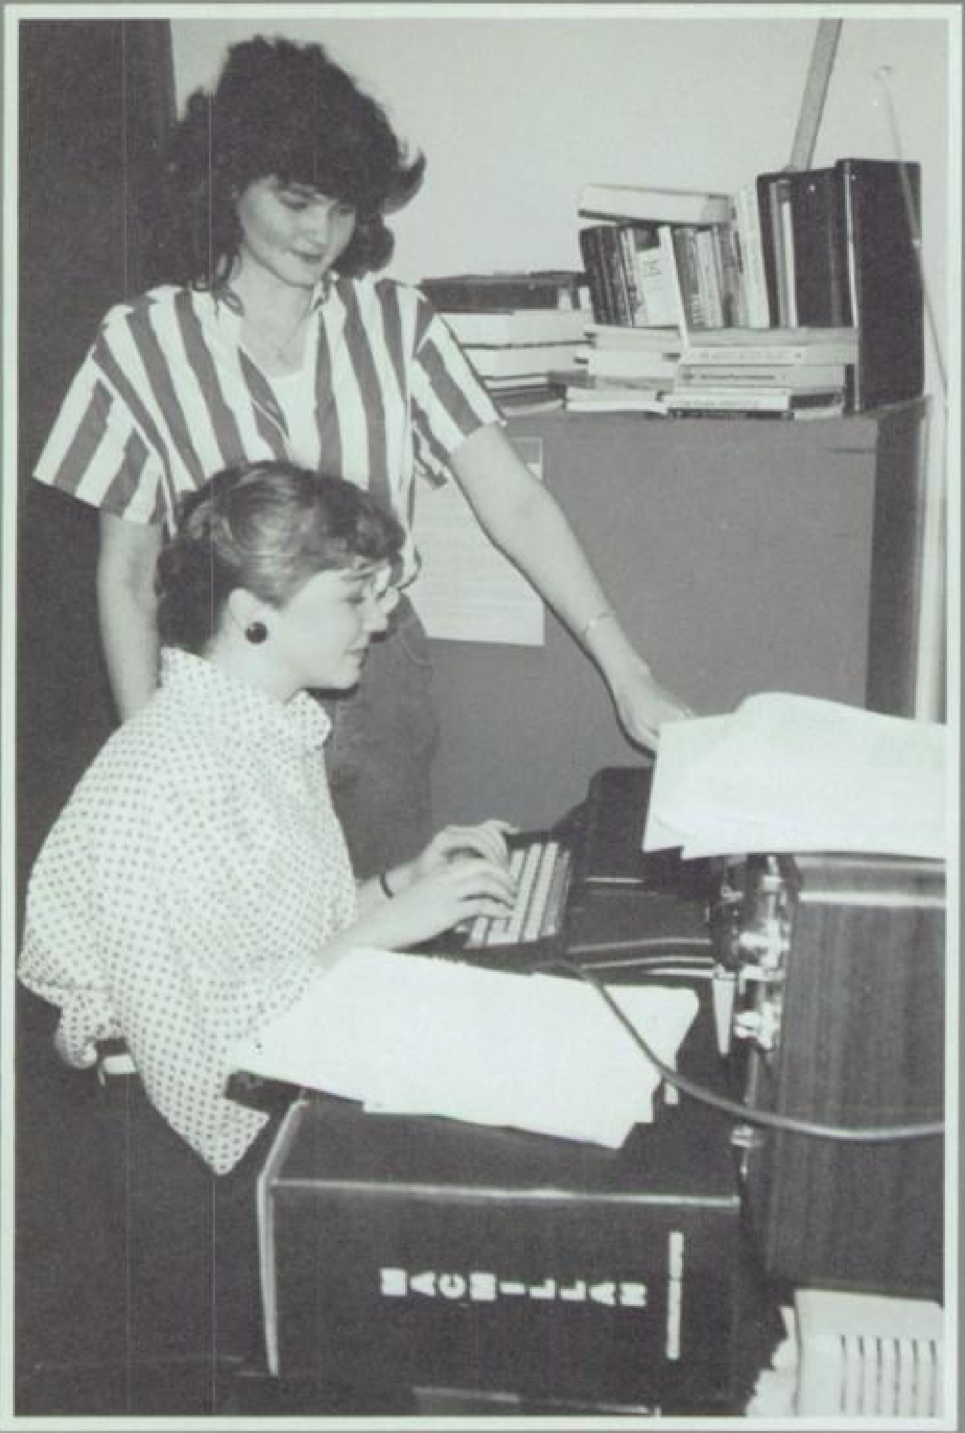
Crimson and Blue Makes Changes

The Crimson and Blue staff members take time out of their busy work schedule to have a picture taken.

The Crimson and Blue school newspaper staff was hard at work to make a sensational newspaper for G.C.H.S. in 1985-86. One of the new attractions was the Helping Hound. This was an advice column for students who had problems and needed the advice of a peer who could give them an honest answer. Also, the format of the paper was changed to magazine style.

Beth Crawford talks with Mr. Davis, the C&B advisor, during one of the third period C&B classes.

These Crimson and Blue staff members talk to Mr. Davis while reviewing the latest issue of the Crimson and Blue.



Lisa North and Robin Singer smile as they type an article for the new issue of the Crimson and Blue.

Jane Morbitzer, editor of the Crimson and Blue, looks at the camera as she works on her article.

Lisa Lucas concentrates as she rereads an article she typed for the Crimson and Blue.

Hard Work Brings Success

The year was a very exciting one for year book, but in no way was it all work and no play. Along with doing layouts, getting pictures,and working on the computer the yearbook staff had a Christmas party, sold carnations for Valentine's Day, and had a spring picnic.

The 1985-86 yearbook editors Rhonda Maynard and Dawn Tanner both received awards and will be included in a national publication of outstanding journalism students.

The members worked their hardest to acheive their goals and made the year a great success.

The yearbook staff shows how much fun yearbook can be by posing for this group shot.

POWDER-PUFF

These members of the yearbook staff show that yearbook is not all work by joking around at the annual Christmas party.

Seniors Rhonda Maynard and Dawn Tanner sort out message cards for the Valentine's Day carnation sale.

These seniors pose with pride in their last year as members of the Yearbook staff.

Groups Add Excitement

Groups at Grove City High School are always a good way to break up the monotony of an ordinary school day. By having meetings and activities students become more involved with their school and friends. Some of the different groups are band, S.A.D.D., In the Know, foreign languages, and National Honor Society. Each year the groups have different and exciting activities which make students more involved.

The members of the G.C.H.S. Symphonic Choir study their music for a practice.

Tracy Weier and Dawn Thompson thank Mrs. Birkfeld for all her help with the Yearbook staff business.

Senior Alan Sturm is surprised when he opens his Christmas present at the Yearbook Christmas party.

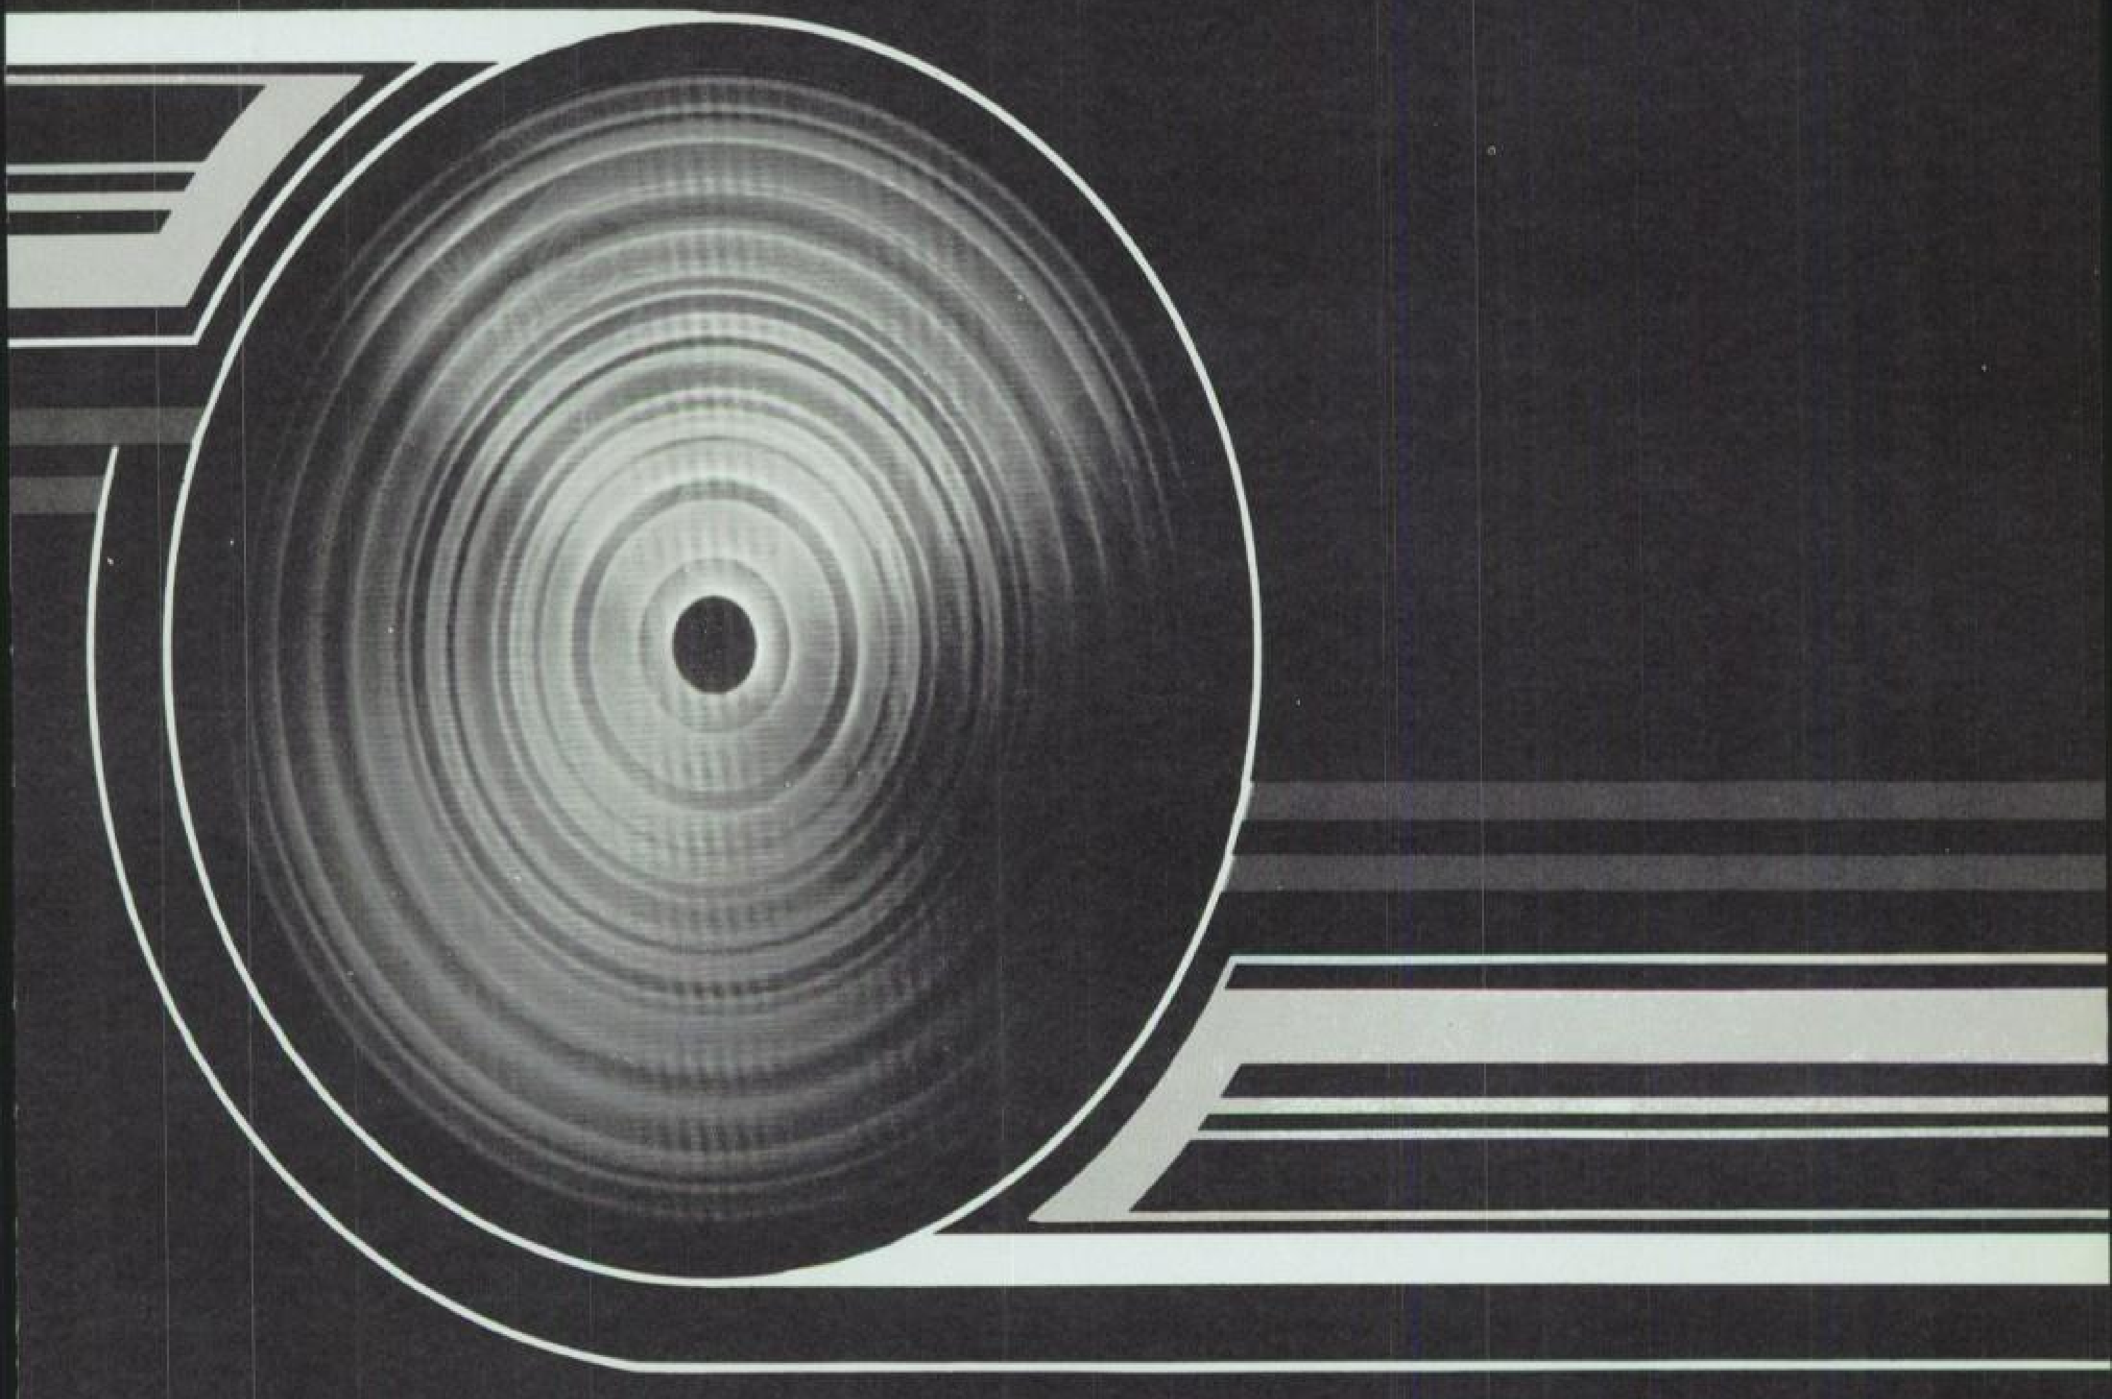
Pick Hits of Advertisements



As in most publications the cost would be prohibitive without the help of outside businesses and companies. Many local businesses once again gave their support to the Greyhound by purchasing a space for an ad. Several businesses that have patronized the book for at least five years are the following:

A-1 Auto Parts
Bennett Insurance
Broadway Cleaners
Drustar Pharmacy
Finocchi Lupidi
Grove City Farmer Exchange
Grove City Hardware
Grove City One Hour
Cleaners Hall of Frame
Heimat Haus
Her Realty
Huntington Bank
Johnnie's Pizza
Kenstar Pharmacy
Kiddy Grove Day Care
Massaro Heating and Cooling
McKnight Development
Miller Funeral Home
Reiser Brothers Schwartz
Driver Training
Shoaf and Shrum Real Estate
Shoedinger Funeral Home
Shuman's Meat
Smitty's Body Shop
Sue Ann's Hallmark Shop
The Columbus Messenger
3M

With the support of these and many others the Greyhound was a pick hit in 1986.

Seniors:

If you'll remember always
there's no goal you can't achieve.
If you'll try your very hardest
And above all else believe—
Believe that you're a person
Who has something good to give—
Believe that you can make this world
A better place to live
If you'll believe you're needed
And others like you too
Then you're sure to find there's nothing In the world you can not do! Gerus

OUR PRINTS ARE LIFETIME GUARANTEED

burrell color prints

Parents play a major role in any student's life. They also feel a certain amount of pride when their sons or daughters complete this first twelve years of schooling. Many times this goes unnoticed because they have trouble expressing this emotion. To help solve this problem, the 1986 Yearbook Business Staff created a brand new section. In this section, these parents can express their pride in the form of a message. These messages are printed as they were received. Now we proudly present our . . .

Parent's Pride Page

Dear Jimmy Brick,
You have helped to make our lives more enjoyable thru your school efforts and contributions. We Love You!
Mom, Dad, and Scottbo

Susan A. Boltz,
God Bless you always,
In big and small ways;
In everything you do—
God bless you, Little Sue!
Mom and Mike

Michelle Carmen Botts,
Hi—Michelle—Mom and Dad here: Well—You made it. Congratulations, Take a bow and celebrate! We're proud and happy for you Babe! We know it has been a difficult accomplishment. Days that seemed impossible (putting it mildly). Our family's ups and downs have been more than a challenge, but we all Hung-in-there! Michelle—you're hard working, loving, funny, caring, and cute (freckles included!) And you're more mature than you think, more will come with time. Just take life—"One day at a time!" It's been great, especially the Grey Hair!
Love and Thanks Babe,
Mom, Dad, and Sis,
P.S. Let us share your future!

William E. Brown Jr.,
Thank you for making my life easier; and may your dreams come true.
Love you,
Mom

Debbie Christiansen,
Congratulations on your accomplishments at G.C.H.S. We'll continue to support your efforts and smile at your successes.
Mom, Dad, Pam, and Glenn

Mark Clotts,
When you stop to think about it, you see that life has shown that when you win the worlds' with you, when you lose, you lose alone.
If you wonder if it's worth it under such a circumstance,
Just think of those who never take the chance...
Congratulations!
With love and pride, Mom, Dad and Shelley

Mark Cooper,
We are very proud of you. Hope all your choices in life are healthy and wise.
Love, Mom and Dad

Elizabeth P. Crawford,
It's a wonderful blessing when you can watch your child grow into a fine young woman and who is all we could possibly hope for.
Dad and Mom

Chandra Lynn Dressel,
Education has finished
But life just begins
Good Luck in your future and career
We're proud of you
All our love
Mom, Dad, Brother Brian
and Michael Jennings

Tammy Eddy,
You've brought many beautiful memorable moments into our lives. As you now move into this new phase of your life, we wish you success, happiness, and love.
Love Mom and Matthew

Tammy Eddy,
Tammy, may God bless you as much as he has blessed me with you.
Love Dad

Allen Edger,
We are proud of your accomplishments, and we wish you only the best in the future.
P.S. Your room is already rented; where shall we send your luggage?
Love, Mom and Dad

Adrienne Eyer,
We are very proud of you!
Love Mom, Dad and Anne

Nolan Fenwick,
Good Luck in finding a way to be useful, not just important.
Mom and Dad

Dortha Ford,
Good luck in whatever you do. We love you!
Mom and Dad

Carolyn S. Harrow,
You are to us a budding rose. Your magic fills us with awe as your dreams begin to unfold. You are our achievement of love and through you we have found our immortality.
Love Mom and Dad

Michelle Lee Heisler,
In our Hands, we hold you TODAY.
In our Thoughts, we will hold you TOMORROW.
In our Hearts, we will hold you ALWAYS.
Love Mom and Dad

Anthony L. Hitchens,
God can grant you all your dreams, if you are willing to master them all my son.
Love Mom

Jami Lin Jackson,
To Jami—My Greatest Source of Pride and Love—always be yourself and you'll always be happy.
Love Mom

Brett Libbe,
We are behind you 100% in whatever you do.
Best Wishes,
Mom and Dad

Crystal Lilly,
From the first time we saw you, we knew you would make us the proud parents we are today. Hope you always have the best of everything. We love you!
Mom and Dad Lilly

Polly A. Marcum,
You have grown into a fine young lady and we are proud of you.
Love, Mom and Dad

I face the day again
Against the window pane
I remain your closest friend
And wish you back again
You wonder how I feel
You say you've pushed to far
If only you could see this pen
Scribbling down my heart.

I'll be waiting
I may be young or old and gray
Counting the days
I'll be waiting
and when I finally see you come
I'll run to meet you
I'll greet you.

And still the days drag on
Why did you decide to go
Did you only need to see
What only time can show
And even if
You never do return
Still I will have learned
How to love you better

I'll be waiting
I may be young or old and gray
Counting the days
I'll be waiting
and when I finally see you come
I'll run when I see you!

A Breed Apart!

Every year until this one I have had major problems in completing the yearbook. The 1986 Greyhound was quite different. The staff worked hard and long to get the job done.

The leadership on the staff, Dawn and Rhonda, was certainly a breed apart. They taught the others very well and did exceptional work on the cover, endsheets, opening, closing, and division pages. The other seniors also did great work.

The other staffers wanted to learn and seemed to accept instruction and criticism graciously. I am proud I could help this group.

The Hits Were Picked In 1986

Throughout the 1985-86 school year,many hits were picked from among the students and staff of Grove City High School. Many people and groups made it possible for the year to be a terrific one for everyone who got involved. Just some of these people or groups were: the student council, the administration, the class officers, the class councelors, the teachers, and that part of the student body which gave their support and enthusiasm to the school and its activities.

A few of the memorable events that allowed the hits to be picked were the valient efforts of the football teams to overcome their opponents, the soccer team's victories which let them be known as a force to be reckoned with, the band's many wins once again, and the student's overall ability to participate in such events, yet keep up with their own academic responsibilities. An event that shocked everyone was on January 28,1986. The space shuttle Challenger blew up just after liftoff. Although it was not something everyone wanted to believe, it did have to be dealt with. The pick hits of '86 made the year a super one which would remain in the hearts of all forever.

Senior cheerleaders Kelly Wilson, Kim Malkowski, and Dawn Lauridsen help get the school rowdy at the last pep rally of the football season.
